Ice Cubes on Move in River Here

ICE ON NORTH Saskatchewan River started to move at Edmonton today. Breakup came quietly. Unless there are heavy spring rains, flooding conditions are not anticipated. Watching wide expanse of ice cubes is Donald Brown, visitor from Vancouver. Breakup came at 8:53 a.m.

North Saskatchewan Ice Out At 8:53 A.M. Today

Spring arrived in Edmonton at exactly 8:53 this morning.

The event was recorded when the ice started to move beneath the Fifth street bridge and the alarm was automatically tripped in No. 2 fire hall.

Today the sweep of the river past Edmonton is open and ice pans are moving slowly downstream.

Height of the river was up 3 ft. 3 inches at noon today over yesterday's level as ice caused jams downstream, William Derby, city power plant engineer, reported.

First movement of ice was recorded by a wire laid in the ice under Fifth street bridge by the Optimist club, who conduct an annual ice derby.

The wire was secured to a stake driven in the ice and hooked up with Number Two fire station. When the wire broke the alarm was set off and time automatically recorded.

LEVEL NORMAL

Present level of river is about normal for this time of year, said Ben Russell, provincial government director of water resources.

"There appears to be no particular danger of flooding this year," he said. "However a flood could occur any spring if snow in the mountains was melted rapidly by a sudden warm spell."

Last flood in Edmonton occurred in 1915, Mr Russell reported, when a sudden rise inundated the entire flats area.

Height of river at that time was 93 feet, the all time high. Height at noon today was 53.75, slightly over a foot below the level at this time last year. All-time low in the river is 52.5.

(Levels are derived from the figure for river's height above sea-level. For example 53.75 is an abbreviation of 2,353.75 feet.)

Liner Samaria Brings Refugees

QUEBEC, April 18—(CP)—The liner Samaria arrived here late last night with a group of refugees, including a number of the 386 who fled in a 500-ton landing craft from Gothenburg, Sweden, to Cobh, Ireland, last Sept. 25. The exact number of refugees aboard the Samaria could not be learned immediately as newspaper men were not allowed aboard the ship

LISBON, Portugal, April 18.—(AP)—The Italian freighter Maria Paolina yesterday landed 10 passengers and 40 crew members she picked up from the Norwegian motorship Geisha which sank in mid-Atlantic April 11. The sinking followed an explosion on the ship loaded with zinc and nitrate.

Defenders Claim 3,000 Toll Of Red Invaders

TAIPEI, Formosa, April 18.—(AP)—Chinese Nationalists claimed today their planes killed more than 2,000 Red invaders of Hainan Island on invasion craft and beaches.

Air headquarters said the toll was counted only until evening of yesterday's fighting.

Nationalist defenders of the vital South China island, fighting back on the ground, sea and in the air, continued the battle today against more than 7,000 Red invaders who have established two beachheads.

Nationalist ground forces claimed they have contained the Red invaders who stormed ashore early yesterday. The Nationalists asserted the Communists succeeded in landing only about half of a 15,000-man force hurled in the greatest amphibious operation and against the big stronghold off South China.

(A Hong Kong dispatch said the Chinese Communists have attacked and presumably occupied tiny Lintin Island, five miles west of Hong Kong and only three miles outside British territorial waters.)

Strike Closes French Port

BREST, France, April 18.—(AP)—A general strike tied up this western France port city today as labor unions mourned a worker killed in yesterday's bloody two-hour riot.

Non-Communist and Communist unions joined in the 24-hour walkout which made idle 15,000 workers in the arsenal, building and metal industries, on the docks, and in shipping and transport.

The dead worker, 24-year-old Edouard Maze, was killed by a stray bullet fired by police, who also hurled tear gas bombs to disperse a howling, rock-throwing Communist mob. The rioting occurred when police prevented a demonstration growing out of a five-week building workers' strike.

Fort Frances Upsets Stamps By 3-2 Score

By STAN MOHER
Sports Editor

If this had happened at the race track, a scant 300 yards away, the cries of 'fix' would have been heard clear to Churchill Downs.

As it is, let's just label Fort Frances Canadians' 3-2 win over Calgary Stampeders at the Gardens last night as the greatest upset in Allan cup history and let it go at that.

Had there been a past performance 'line' on Canadians previous to the contest it might have read: 'Fort Frances Canadians; champions Thunder Bay-Manitoba; small, light aggregation; beaten 11-0 in opening game at Calgary, Saturday night.

Approximate odds: 100-1.

Well, the 100-1 shot came home to the people, 6,000 of them, to knot the western Canada Allan cup final at one win apiece.

At the same time all ideas of curtailing what was originally scheduled as a best-of-seven series, to a best-of-five affair, have gone down the drain.

THEY LIKE IT HERE

No matter what happens from here in, those battling Canucks from the Rainy lake country of Ontario have made it stick.

As they headed back last night to Calgary, where the third game will be played tomorrow night, Canadians' manager Joe Murray was pulling all the strings he could to get the fourth contest booked into the Gardens.

"We want to make this our home ice," the good looking Fort Frances manager was declaiming. "We like it here. The ice was the best we've been on since the playoffs got underway."

Love Affair Blamed In Bomb Plot

Man Loses Nerve At Last Moment So No One Hurt

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—(CP)—A man's plot to destroy his heavily-insured wife on a plane loaded with passengers including his two small children, was blamed today by police on John Henry Grant's passion for a pretty red-head whom he wished to marry.

The plot, strangely reminiscent of an air tragedy in Quebec last summer, was foiled by premature explosion of the gasoline time-bomb as it was being loaded on an airliner and by Grant's simultaneous confession.

A suicide watch was placed on Grant after it was found he had torn strips of cloth from his cell mattress in an attempt to make a noose, Detective Jack Guildstone said.

'TREAT' FOR CHILD

Police Lieut. C. E. Ream said that Miss Betty Suomela told him that she was in love with the 32-year-old Grant. Yesterday, while he was placing the bomb on a United Air Lines twin-engine DC-3 carrying 16 passengers to San Diego, she thought he was appearing in court to get a divorce from his wife.

The air trip was to have been a birthday treat for Grant's five-year-old son, Bobby.

The near-disaster and its motives had a strange parallel to the macabre time-bombing of a Canadian Pacific airliner 40 miles from Quebec Sept. 9. J. Albert Guay, 32, a jeweller, was convicted in Quebec March 14 of murdering his wife and 22 others aboard the plane. He was sentenced to be hanged June 23.

Guay was found guilty of tricking Mrs. Marguerite Pitre, 41, into putting a package containing a dynamite bomb aboard the plane. It went off while the craft was over wild Canadian bush country. Guay wanted to get rid of his wife, Rita, 29, so he could marry his mistress, Marie-Ange Robitaille, 19. He also wanted to collect his wife's insurance.

PROMISED MARRIAGE

In the Grant case, the stewardess, who is not employed by United, told Ream that Grant had led her to believe that he would marry her after the divorce. Ream questioned the stewardess and said he

Punishment Of Red Offenders Asked

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(AP)—The United States charged today that Russian fighters shot down the missing American navy patrol plane over open waters of the Baltic sea.

It demanded that Russia punish those responsible and pay appropriate indemnity for the lives of the 10 men lost in the plane.

The charge and the demand were made in a formal reply to Russia's protest of April 11 that an American plane had flown over Latvia and exchanged gunfire with Soviet aircraft April 8.

MAKES DEMAND

The American note, delivered in Moscow by Ambassador Alan G. Kirk, demanded also that "the most strict and categorical instructions" be issued to the Soviet air force to prevent any new incident "so clearly calculated to magnify the difficulties of maintaining peaceful and correct international relationship."

A U.S. Navy Privateer en route from Wiesbaden, Germany to Copenhagen, Denmark, has been missing with 10 men aboard since April 8.

The note flatly rejected Russia's claim that the American plane flew over Russian territory in violation of international law.

It charged the Soviets with a "violation of international law and of the most elementary rules of peaceful conduct between nations."

The 600-word counterprotest said the American investigation determined that the U. S. plane involved was the navy four-engine Privateer patrol craft which has been missing in the Baltic area since April 8.

All American aircraft operate under strict instructions to avoid flying over any foreign territory except with express permission, the note said.

It added that the U.S. investigation convinced this government that the navy plane did not fly over "any Soviet or Soviet-occupied territory or territorial waters adjacent thereto."

The boy ran into the left front fender of a truck proceeding west, operated by E. G. Smith of 11806 70 street.

A city ambulance rushed the child to the Royal Alexandra hospital and he was released after an examination revealed nothing worse than minor bruises.

Child is the son of H. T. Phillips, a manufacturers' agent.

Jetliner Makes Toronto, N. Y. Trip in One Hour

NEW YORK, April 18—(CP)—A silver-colored Canadian-built AVRO jetliner landed at New York's Idlewild airport at 10:33 a.m., today after flying from Toronto's Malton airport in one hour and three minutes.

The four-engined jet-propelled aircraft took off from Malton at 9:30 a.m. for the 365-mile flight and was over Idlewild exactly one hour later.

It circled the airport three minutes before coming in for a landing.

Normal flying time by commercial air liners between Toronto and New York is one hour and 50 minutes.

The craft resembles an ordinary plane except for the lack of propellers. It is powered by two jet engines on each wing and bears the word "Jetliner" lettered in red on its side.

STRONG MAN

James, under cross-examination by defence counsel Alex Dubensky, said that Kee was a very strong man, weighing some 200 pounds and muscular

B.C. Anxious To Be First Stop On Pipeline

VANCOUVER, April 18.—(CP)—British Columbia has "high hopes" of finding oil or natural gas somewhere in the northwestern section of the province, A. Bruce Robertson told the Pacific Northwest Trade Association yesterday.

The vice-president of B.C. Electric Railway Company said many of the continent's large companies were sure oil and gas would be found in B.C. as in Alberta

He said it was essential Vancouver be the first stop on a gas pipeline from Alberta and thus have a priority of supply.

A pipeline through B.C. would give impetus to industrial development along its route, would provide employment for many people here both in building the line and in industries and possibly would mean the necessary capital expenditures would be made in Canada.

SEEN BY 1954

He said natural gas may reach Vancouver by the fall of 1954.

Of four proposed exporters of natural gas from Alberta, only one company, Westcoast Transmission Co. Ltd., had proposed a route which would provide an outlet through B.C. for gas it hopes to develop in northeastern B.C. as well as from areas in northwest Alberta, he said.

Mr. Robertson said it would be some years before the market would be sufficient to support more than one pipeline.

Westcoast company had estimated consumption in the areas proposed to be served, during the fifty years after gas had been made available, would be 56,000,000,000 cubic feet, with approximately 12,000,000,000 being used in B.C. and 44,000,000,000 in the United States.

MUST COMPETE

Estimated cost of Westcoast's 1,570-mile pipeline—about 1,200 miles in Canada—would be $113,794,000.

He said many people in Alberta were opposed to export of gas from the province because it might mean depletion of their own supply and a rise in price.

Volume of sales for any company had to be estimated on ability to undersell coal and fuel oil. Unless prices were low enough, there could be no pipeline.

The distributing company must have security of supply and the line must be located so it could be easily repaired.

DICTATE LOCATION

"These factors must dictate the location of the line and political considerations must yield to them," he said.

Distributors were not backing any particular pipeline company. They did not know what price any company would ask them to pay for gas.

"But a time will come when they must make a decision and I most fervently hope that, when that time comes, we will have more than one pipeline company to deal with," he said.

"I feel sure that only in that way will the consumers get gas at the cheapest possible price and over the route which will ensure us the highest security of supply. There is room for only one pipeline but competition among those who build it is most desirable."

Camp Scene Of Stabbing

CALGARY, April 18.—(CP)—A knife-wielding assailant who last night attacked a man and woman at an auto camp in southwest Calgary is being hunted by police.

Taken to hospital following a wild battle were August Grandquillet, about 50, and Isabel Bjor, about 35. Hospital officials said the man was in "fair" condition and the woman was "satisfactory."

Grandquillet suffered stab wounds on the head, face and arms. He was given blood transfusions on arrival at hospital. The woman had head cuts and a stab wound in the back.

Police said a Valentine Zorn was wanted for questioning in connection with the stabbing. He was described as fortyish, short and stocky, wearing a dark-grey jacket, grey trousers and no hat.

WITNESS AFFRAY

The stabbing affray was witnessed by two Texas women—Mrs. C. A. Sprott of Marlin and Mrs. A. Pollett of Houston — who were guests at the auto camp.

The women were in Mrs. Pollet's car, preparing to go to a late movie, when they saw the scuffling on the porch of one of the cabins.

"The woman tried to separate them and the one man appeared to stab the other," said Mrs. Sprott.

"Then he ran over to our car and I just got the door locked in time. He lost his hat and he ran back and jumped on the woman and stabbed her, then disappeared as we went to the service station for help. He didn't seem to be drunk."

Love Motive In Bomb Plot

was convinced that she was in no way implicated in the case and that she would be released.

Unlike the Guay murder, yesterday's plane bomb plot failed because Grant lost his nerve at the last moment. No one was injured.

Just as the blue-and-silver DC-3 was about to leave Los Angeles international airport for San Diego yesterday, Grant ran to the ticket counter and screamed:

"Don't let that plane take off! I just put a bag on it full of gasoline!"

SUITCASE EXPLODES

At the same moment a baggage handler loading the plane out on the field dropped a heavy suitcase. It exploded and flames flared up, singeing the man's eyebrows and hair.

The baggageman, Harold Mayer, quickly extinguished the flames and tossed the suitcase out on the ground. He opened it and found an alarm clock wired to ignite a box of matches, which in turn would explode several gallons of gasoline contained in sections of an innertube. Only a small portion of the gasoline was ignited, however, and no one else was injured.

Detective Ned G. Logdson, who arrested Grant, said that the one-time topflight aviation engineer told him he was $6,000 in debt. He quoted Grant as saying he planned to collect $25,000 in insurance taken out at the airport on his wife and two children.

Detective R. B. McCreadie said Mrs. Grant told him most of the debts were incurred in connection with a paternity suit involving her husband in New York several years ago.

'NICE' TO WIFE

"The last few weeks he's been very nice to me," McCreadie quoted Mrs. Grant as saying. "Last week he told me to buy a new dress. I wondered why he was being so nice. I guess this must be the answer."

Miss Suomela, Lt. Ream said, told him she met Grant three years ago, shortly after arriving here from New York. She said Grant told her he was separated from his wife and that his marriage had been childless.

For some time, Ream quoted her, he has been telling her he was getting a divorce.

Ream said that the stewardess had frequently loaned Grant money and granted him use of her car.

MARRIED 8 YEARS

The Grants were married eight years ago. Their daughter, Marie, is six and their son, Robert, is five.

Capt. Ray Pinker, head of the Los Angles police crime laboratory, said the bomb was cleverly constructed.

"There's a clock inside it," he said. "It is connected to batteries and a high-resistance bridge. At a set time the clock would have turned on the current and an ordinary book of paper matches would have been ignited. The bag in which the mechanism was contained was crammed with inner tube sections filled with high octane gasoline. The matches and the gas would have done the trick-set fire flaming in the rear cargo hold."

Magic Drink Is Relieving Heart Pains

BOSTON, April 18.—(AP)—The magic drink of water made by atomic energy is relieving heart pains, shortness of breath and tired feelings.

The report on this new medical step was made yesterday to the opening session of the American College of Physicians by Doctors Herman L. Blumgart, A. Stone Freedberg and George S. Kurland, of Beth Fisrael hospital and Harvard Medical School.

The magic drink is radioactive iodine in water. The amount of iodine is small enough to be almost tasteless.

The drink was given to 22 patients with either angina pectoris or congestive heart failure. All were complete invalids. Four returned to work and a number of others began again to enjoy life at home.

Need For Schools Stressed At Olds

National HSA Head Says Public Is Being Informed

Special to The Bulletin

OLDS, April 18.—There is need for an extensive school building program all across Canada.

Dr. W. P. Percival, president of the Canadian Home and School Association, speaking at the 19th annual convention of the Alberta Federation of Home and Schools, now in session in Olds, said this need is being brought to the attention of the public by Federation members.

The Federation is serving to unify the thought of the public on education throughout the province, he said. Importance of using the school as a community centre, particularly for 'teenagers, was stressed.

CHILD PSYCHOLOGY

School curriculum and child psychology are being studied by Home and School groups and their campaign against crime comics resulted in curtailment of the books.

"Responsibility rests with the Home and School to combat the influences of Communism and harmful tendencies of such things as crime comics and movies that inspire contempt of law and approved standards of social conduct," Dr Percival said.

Following the evening session a reception for more than 300 was held in Olds School of Agriculture, at which provincial president Mrs. A. N. Hutchinson, first vice-president, Mrs. E. H. Boalch, both of Calgary, Lt.-Gov. and Mrs. J. J. Bowlen, Dr. Percival and M. W. Malyon, president of the Olds association received.

The convention will end Wednesday.

Mrs. E. H. Boalch, of Calgary, was elected president of the federation at today's session of the convention.

An increase of over 3,000 members of home and school in Alberta was indicated in the report of the treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Baker, of Calgary. The organization is now 15,000 strong and is expanding at such a rate that more extended services will be necessary for next year.

Two Arrested With Stolen Art

UEBECK, British Zone, April 18.—(Reuters)—German police have arrested two men and taken from them a valuable painting by the Dutch 17th century painter, Adrian Van de Velde, believed stolen from a Berlin air raid shelter. The painting, a river landscape, is believed to belong to the Berlin Kaiser Friedrich Museum and is estimated to be worth 80,000 marks (about $18,500).

Uranium Up From $2.75 To $6 Price

TORONTO, April 18.—(CP)—A graded price for uranium running as high as $6 a pound for uranium oxides as compared with the present price of $2.75 was announced today by W. J. Bennett, president of the government's Eldorado Mining and Refining, Ltd.

Mr. Bennett outlined the increases to the annual convention of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

It works out this way in the case of ore of .25 per cent or five pounds per ton:

Multiply the five pounds by the present $2.75 and get $13.75. Add a milling allowance of $7.25 and get $21.

Then if you recover 70 per cent of the five pounds you get 3.5 pounds.

The price per pound to be paid for the U308 content of the concentrates is $21 divided by 3.5, which is $6 a pound.

Working it out the same way ore yielding .5 per cent or 10 pounds a ton would give a final figure of $4.95 a pound for concentrates: and ore yielding .75 or 15 pounds a ton would give a final figure of $4.62 a pound.

The increase comes from a milling allowance of $7.25 in each case, rather than a change in the $2.75 price itself.

Eldorado Mining and Refining, Ltd., will make the purchases under the new formula F.O.B. rail.

Belief In Fairies Artists' Necessity

By Ivers Kelly
Bulletin Staff Writer

Unless you believe in fairies you can't be a sculptor, a musician, a singer or a painter.

"Anyone who doesn't believe in fairyland is no musician and is simply wasting time trying to be," Alec Redshaw, English adjudicator, told a section of Alberta Musical Festival at Masonic Temple today.

Nine Alberta girls, from 14 to 15, sang with lovely voices a song of fairyland, but "they never left the earth."

Not one showed an ethereal quality. None of them believed in fairies, Mr. Redshaw lamented.

For more than 20 minutes he conducted them as a chorus.

ARMS WAVING

They waved their arms gently in time to the music, hummed bars fro mthe song, "I know a bank where wild thyme grows," and listened to him exhort them to go to fairyland as lady-in-waiting to the fairy queen.

At the end of the "lesson," the nine girls who came from as far north as Athabasca and Bonnyville and as far south as Calgary and Lethbridge, sang the song again as a chorus.

The improvement was so marked that the audience completely lost reserve and applauded for several minutes.

He selected Arlene Meadows of Calgary as winner of the class with Audrey King of Edmonton second and both Margaret Malone of Edmonton and Diana Kitson of Lethbridge in the third spot.

In McDougall Church Dr. C. S. Lang, adjudicator from London, Eng., was enthusiastic of the playing of Miss Mary Lou Dawed, 17-year-old Calgary pianist. Her selection, like all others, had been recorded and at the end of the judging he had the record played back to the audience.

Runners up to Miss Dawed were Barbara Bayzand and Audrey Johnston, both of Edmonton.

Other piano winners are: under 12 years of age, Shirley Green, first and Nancy Brine, second; 13 and under, Marianne Olseky, first and Donna Wallin, second.

Instrumental winners include: violin, 11 years and under Patricia Makar, first and Andy Dawes second; violin, 12 years and under, Wendy Joy Baycroft, first and Alfred Myhre, second.

Speech winners, judged by Mrs. Leona Patterson of Calgary at All Saints' Parish Hall are: Grade V, Dennis McKenzie, first and Duane Ducey and Carol Miller, tied for second; under 11 years, Carol Miller, first and Grace McEachren, second; grade IV, Sandra Neve, who won the highest marks to date in any public speech contest, and Grace McEachren, second.

JUST TOO MANY JOBS AROUND

NEW YORK, April 18.—(AP)—A much smaller picket line was on duty last night outside the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, where Northern Ireland's prime minister, Sir Basil Brooke, is stopping.

Judge Matthew Troy, leading the picket protest against the partition of Ireland, explained the reason:

His pickets had to divide forces, so some of them could picket the British automobile show at Grand Central Palace.

SAFETY CLUB

Game Time Traffic Is Big Hazard

By CECIL 'TIGER' GOLDSTICK

Traffic is always the thickest just before game time.

So that means there's another hard lesson to be learned about traffic dangers.

In other words you have to take special care on the way to hockey games, wrestling matches and other sport events.

In summertime, the baseball games and the swimming pools draw the crowds—but the same rule of watchfulness applies.

'RED GOD' SACRIFICE

It takes a lot of fun out of the game or the sport when someone has to be sacrificed to the 'red god' of traffic accidents just when everyone is preparing to enjoy himself.

There's another item being mentioned by police these days.

In the desire to educate motorists to full observance of safety regulations, it is sometimes forgotten that a small minority of motorcycle riders need a few safety lessons too.

Just recently police had to stop two of them racing through downtown streets at 65 miles per hour.

So keep an eye out for the smart-alecs—another traffic menace.

And make up your mind, if the time comes when you buy that motor bike you've been wanting to, think of the other fellow's welfare.

Please enroll me in the Edmonton Bulletin "Whippers" Safety Club.

Work Lack Still Problem But Employment Is High

Although unemployment is a problem in certain areas, there are actually more Canadians employed today than at any other period.

This was the point stressed in an interview today by J. G. Parker, president of Imperial Life Assurance of Canada Ltd.

Mr. Parker is in Edmonton on his annual inspection tour of Canadian branch offices.

"I feel sure that 1950 will be a good business year for Canada. I think most of the unemployment we hear about is of a seasonable nature, such as work in the woods.

"There is still a great demand for goods," he said.

The life insurance official said that business of his company has remained "very good."

He said: "The ordinary man is finding that life insurance offers the one plan whereby a man can spend both his capital and interest and still provide his family with security."

HIGH AND LOW

He said high taxation and low interest rates combine to bring about this situation. The ordinary salaried man cannot save sufficient to provide security for himself and his family.

Therefore he turns to life insurance investment, the president explained.

OUT OF STOCK

He felt that if the interest rate went up from a present 2¾ per cent to about 3½ per cent, organizations with money would "take it out of the sock."

At present low rates, there is little inducement for risky capital venture, he added.

While in Edmonton, Mr. Parker is conferring with R. E. Frizzell, northern Alberta manager.

EDMONTON MAN LOSES HIS BROTHER

C. S. Payne, veteran employe of the Edmonton police department until recently, has received word of the death of his brother, Walter Payne, in Jersey, in the Channel Islands.

Walter Payne visited Edmonton and Vancouver on several occasions, being last here in 1945-46.

He is survived by Charles Payne, of Edmonton; another brother, H. J. Payne, of Vancouver; Mrs. R. Meagher in Jersey, and three nieces.

Mr. MacKenzie, from the company's head ofices in Calgary, is attending the annual sales convention of the northern division of Motor Car Supply.

Among the 30 salesmen and district managers of the northern division attending, are personnel from Dawson Creek, Grande Prairie and Peace River.

Approximately 150 attended a banquet in the Macdonald hotel last night at which treasurer F. H. Johnson of Calgary main office was the speaker.

Extra Interests Advocated By School Teacher

Importance of extra curricular activities among school children was stressed by Arnold Henderson, technical school teacher, when he addressed last night's meeting of Strathcona high school Home and School Association.

He spoke to the first general meeting of the recently formed association.

The meeting elected Duncan Innis, principal, as honorary president, and Mrs. H. J. Siemens and J. W. Moseley rtpresentatives to the Home and School Council.

Slate of officers for the regular term will be elected at a meeting May 8.

Woman Hurt In Auto Smash

A Villeneuve, Alta., resident, Mrs. Richard Strunk, is in Royal Alexandra hospital today suffering from back injuries received in a car-truck collision near St. Albert yesterday.

RCMP in Edmonton said Mrs. Strunk was a passenger in car driven by William Ording, Villeneuve, when it crashed into rear of truck driven by George Caovette, Morinville, during yesterday's heavy snowfall.

The injured woman's husband, also a passenger in Ording car, and both drivers escaped injury.

Wild Ride Has Sequel, $25 Fine

Motorcyclist John Beeching was fined $25 and casts and had his driver's licence suspended for six weeks when he pleaded guilty in police court today to charge of speeding.

Beeching was arrested last night by Constables J. Toner and B. Gorman after they had followed him in a prowler car along 95 street from 111 avenue to 104 avenue "at a speed between 60 and 65."

The accused failed to heed a stop sign and passed several cars in heavy midnight traffic, police testified.

Majority of the 48 assessments under appeal, heard yesterday by city commissioners, were confirmed.

Total of 315 cases faced the court of appeals when it started its annual job Monday, but about half them were either withdrawn or the appellants failed to show up.

No assessments were reduced by yesterday's sessions, but several re-inspections were ordered.

The appeals continue today and tomorrow.

Civic officials today called attention to the fact that no department stores have entered appeals against their 1950 assessments, in spite of "very substantial increases."

Asphalt surfacing contract for the highway from Pincher Creek to Lundbreck and from Pincher Creek south to Drywood Creek in southern Alberta was also awarded to Wells.

Cost of the work is estimated at $325,690. Two other bids were received.

Contract for grading 26 miles from Beiseker east to the Kirby school was awarded to F. R. Gibbs, Calgary, for $145,885.

Chief feature will be a special course covering reading through school grades, to be given by Mrs. Tillie S. Gregg, reading consultant for the Scott, Forsman Company.

CPR Taxation Remains Same

Yesterday's Manitoba court of appeals decision on taxation of CPR property in Winnipeg will have no effect on the situation in Edmonton.

Civic officials said today the CPR has signified its acceptance of the increased 1950 land assessment, despite a 61 per cent overall boost which will increase its tax bill by $6,615 this year.

The Manitoba court decision arose from an 1881 agreement between Winnipeg and the CPR, exempting the railroad from taxation, but no similar arrangement was ever entered here.

Last year in Edmonton the CPR paid $36,309 realty tax on an assessment of $229,240, plus a business tax of $6,614.

This year, with no change in building assessment, but with the 61 per cent overall increase in land assessment, the railroad will pay $44,468 in realty tax on $365,660 assessment.

Many Tenders Are Received On Fire Equipment

Edmonton appears to be in line for savings on its new fire fighting equipment.

A record number of tenders were opened yesterday by city commissioners when bids on two 750-gallon pumpers, one 100-foot aerial ladder, and one 85-foot aerial ladder, were opened.

Figures on yesterday's bids will be released by city commissioners when they are submitted to city council Monday.

Firms bidding on the current equipment included Bickle-Seagrave, Ward LaFrance, American LaFrance (no connection), Costello Equipment of Calgary and C. E. Hickey and Sons, of Hamilton.

City Has Authority To Fill Any Excavations

Open excavations in Edmonton don't have to be dangerous to life in order to involve its "owner or occupant" in legal proceedings.

They may only be a nuisance.

Three years ago the city obtained a charter amendment which permits city council to fill such excavations, depressions or cellars—after due notice is given the owner or occupant concerned—and charge the cost back.

The process begins when a complaint is received, or a building inspector finds an excavation is potentially dangerous to life or limb, or constitutes a nuisance.

The regulations are of interest today because of numerous complaints of parents that children are placed in danger by open excavations, now full of water, in various areas of the city.

During the past year there has been only one case where the owner concerned did not remove the danger, and council ordered the hole filled.

But there have been about six other cases where the cause of danger was removed before the deadline expired.

There is no provision for a fine in connection with the proceedings.

Bad Level Crossings

Another traffic death at one of Edmonton's level crossings, this time at 84 street and 110 avenue, indicates how urgent is the need for some speedy action on these dangerous railway intersections.

There are 27 highly hazardous level crossings in Edmonton that are absolutely unprotected and which constitute a death trap for motorists when weather conditions are bad and even in good weather when weariness or some other factor renders the driver less alert than usual.

Adequate protection for these level crossings has been discussed for years.

Action of a sort was precipitated in February, 1948, when the city asked the Board of Transport Commissioners to approve a bylaw prohibiting railway engines from blowing whistles and ringing bells within the city limits.

In April of 1948 and again in April of 1949, the Board's engineers inspected the grade crossings in Edmonton and recommended that 27 of them be given protection in the way of road stops, flashing lights and railway stops.

Implementation of this report has been held up because the apportionment of costs between the city and the railway companies comes under the jurisdiction of the Board of Transport Commissioners and has to be argued before them.

City officials have taken the position that the city should assume the cost of erecting and maintaining road stop signs and the railways the cost of railway stop signs.

The cost of flashing signals should be divided.

Everything is hanging fire and has hung fire for almost a year because the Board of Transport Commissioners has offered no opportunity for the city and the railway companies to negotiate on costs.

Meanwhile human life is being lost through the delay.

The price of postponement is too expensive.

The city should take steps to urge the Board towards early action.

Amendments to the Criminal Code

Ottawa spokesmen make it clear that the federal government will make no sweeping changes in the Criminal Code to allow Ontario and Quebec to institute state lotteries.

That may be a sound determination.

But it seems that the federal government is peculiarly averse to making any sweeping changes in the Criminal Code on any point and that the only way that venerable and sometimes decrepit volume of legislation is ever changed is by ineffectual and piecemeal alterations.

The Criminal Code has been picked at and propped up and given extra bay windows and gargoyles until it looks like an early Victorian mansion on the wrong side of the tracks.

One can understand the reluctance of government to interfere too much with criminal legislation when one looks across the border at the tremendous volume of state and federal law that governs the behavior of our American cousins.

Indeed, there is so much criminal legislation over there that under some circumstances much of it is never enforced.

But surely Canada could be more exact and systematic in the changes that are made.

Surely it would simplify matters if judges, lawyers, police magistrates and police chiefs were represented on a committee to study the entire volume from end to end and get the Code straightened out for good and all.

Every session of parliament sees some little change made.

What we need, now, is an overhauling of the whole business.

Leopold Not Behaving Well

Millions of people throughout the world who would have welcomed the return of King Leopold to the throne of Belgium are growing lukewarm in their support because Leopold, through the recent negotiations, has not been behaving well.

The King declared that if the recent plebiscite did not give him more than 55 per cent, he would relinquish his efforts to regain his constitutional place and abdicate in favor of his son.

The actual majority for his restoration was 57 per cent and attempts in the government to bring Leopold back led to the downfall of one cabinet and a series of labor disturbances throughout the country.

But Leopold persists in his determination to return.

His latest vague proposal to share the royal power, in some ill-defined way, with his son does not even have the approval of the Social Christian party which has been most zealous in promoting his restoration.

Many people outside Belgium would like to see King Leopold return as an act of justice to a man whose folly was misrepresented as treason.

But no king should attempt to foist himself on a country when 43 per cent of its people are actively opposed to him.

A king should be a unifying agent, not a source of conflict.

If the principle of monarchy were at stake, one could understand Leopold's insistence.

But monarchy is not at stake. The people of Belgium are quite willing to accept Crown Prince Baudouin as their constitutional ruler.

All that is at stake is the personal vindication and aggrandizement of a single man.

That is important enough.

But it is not as important as maintaining monarchy in Belgium.

And Leopold's wilfulness has gone to the point where his return will jeopardize monarchy more than maintain it.

Friends of monarchy everywhere feel that Leopold could best serve that institution and his country by resigning his claim to the throne.

ODDS AND ENDS

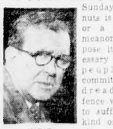
How to Create Demand For American Sunday

A few days ago, a certain small shop in downtown Edmonton was haled to court for selling a few nuts on Sunday.

Now I don't know what the law may be about selling a handful of salted nuts on Sunday.



WEIR

If the law actually says the Sunday sale of nuts is a crime or a misdemeanor, I suppose it is necessary that the people who committed this dreadful offence will have to suffer some kind of a penalty.

If laws exist, they must be enforced.

But laws that are bad laws should be wiped off the books.

And if any law says it is wrong to sell nuts on Sunday, that law should be abolished.

I am not primarily concerned with the morality or immorality of peddling a bag of pecans on the day of rest.

But I am concerned with the preservation of the Canadian Sunday.

And you can take a ticket on it that the Canadian Sunday won't last very long in Edmonton if we're going to throw a fantod every time somebody becomes so desperately iniquitous as to sell a walnut on the Lord's Day.

Action, Reaction

Such institutions as the wide-open American Sunday are always the result of public reaction against fanatic Puritanism.

The most licentious period in English history came after the restoration of the Stuarts, not because Charles II was a loose-living man, but because the people suddenly rebelled against the dour and stupid inhibitions imposed by the execrable Cromwell.

The excesses attributed to the "gay nineties" were not due to the influence of the Prince of Wales, afterwards Edward VII, but due to the long suppression of gayety suffered by England when long-faced leaders of society considered it necessary to follow the example, in spirit, of Queen Victoria who turned Windsor Castle into a dreadful travesty of a nunnery after Prince Albert died.

And the present typical American Sunday, which we definitely do not want in Canada, is the result of prolonged public reaction to the bigotry that flourished in the New England states and elsewhere during colonial and early republican days.

Full of Examples

History is full of such examples of action and reaction.

The ferocity of the Parisian mob during the French Revolution was in direct proportion to the suppression of that mob during the days of comparative law and order under the last reigning Bourbons.

The tide of behavior in human affairs seems to ebb and flow in exactly the same manner as the tide of the sea.

A period of suppression always seems to be followed by a period of excess. And the more rigid the suppression, the wilder the excess.

That principle is directly applicable to the laws concerning behavior on Sundays in this year of grace 1950.

It is apparent in Ontario whose largest city, Toronto, has always been forced by tradition into at least a hypocritical form of sad-eyed Sunday observance.

Toronto has kicked over the traces.

The place is full, now, of cocktail bars which would be all right with me if they sold anything but the foulest and cheapest liquor made on the North American continent.

Then the payoff came, last year, when a plebiscite declared strongly in favor of commercialized Sunday sport.

I am not necessarily decrying these things.

I am merely pointing out that when the lid is kept on too tightly, and too long, sooner or later the public will kick it off with a bang.

Back to The Nuts

My personal opinion is that the Edmonton Sunday could be loosened up a little bit without harm to anybody.

But if we keep tightening the screws on such minor and inoffensive acts as vending a few goobers on Sunday, these little irritations will mount until there will be a general rebellion against anything that savors of a blue law.

Then, through the force of the reaction, we will get the kind of a Sunday that nobody really wants.

Crank and fanatic laws have done more to promote sin than the devil himself.

Intolerance and bigotry open up a lighted highway to hell.

Smiles

Ling: "If you looked at a postage stamp, how could you tell we were never going to lose a war?"

Long: "I dunno."

Ling: "Why, because the King is always on the side that's never licked."

The young plumber had proposed to the girl and had been accepted. Several hours later they parted and he went home.

At three o'clock in the morning a loud ringing of the front door bell of the girl's house was heard. Her father, roused from sleep went to the window and, sticking out his head, inquired who was there.

"It's John," said the voice from below. "I asked Dorothy to marry me and she said she would, but I forgot to kiss her."

Then there was the case of the motorist who always went round curves marked "Danger" at top speed because he felt that the sooner he was out of the danger zone the better.

Letters to the Editor

Irish Question

Editor, Bulletin — The article headed "Ireland's Chief Danger Comes from Her Friends" which appeared in the Bulletin recently calls for some comment.

Mr. Harold L. Weir, the author of said article, seems to detect the mote in his neighbor's eye very clearly. Whilst he rashly accuses other people of "rushing blindly to the defence of the Ould Sod whether they know anything about the problem they argue about or not," is he quite satisfied that he knows all the answers himself?

According to Mr. Weir, Mayor O'Dwyer of New York "doesn't know as much about Ireland as the average Canadian schoolboy." Is it possible that O'Dwyer who was born and educated in Ireland, knows nothing about Ireland?

According to the same authority, O'Dwyer "flew into a rage" recently, and declared that he would not receive Britain's puppet Prime Minister of Northern Ireland. The number of prominent Irishmen who have been reported as "flying into a rage" within the past few weeks, is most remarkable!

As Mr. Weir's article may have led some simple souls to assume that he is an authority on Britain's unjust and arbitrary dismemberment of Ireland, perhaps he will enlighten them on the following points:

1. Is it correct to state, that the essence of democracy lies in the right of a people to freely determine how they are to be governed?
2. Is it therefore to the people of Ireland that the right of self-determination belongs?
3. When partition was imposed by Britain on Ireland, were the people of Ireland consulted beforehand? Were even the people of Northern Ireland consulted?
4. Under the democratic system, what is the accepted unit by which national policies are decided, and a government elected? Is it the nation?
5. Within the democratic system, are areas within a nation permitted to disown national policy, and set up sovereign governments?
6. Why are 20 per cent of the Irish people given the privilege, and permitted to choose their own form of government, and who has authority to bestow on them such a privilege or right?
7. Would Mr. Weir object to the people of Quebec transferring their allegiance from Ottawa to Paris and the "Dooks" from Ottawa to Moscow? If the answer is in the negative, then his approval of the setup in Ireland is understandable.

Mercury Parade

Editor, Bulletin. — Please be good enough to insert the following in your column, Letters to the Editor.

After witnessing the Mercurys parade on Thursday, April 6th, heartily endorse Mr. Weir's opinion. I would suggest, that before going to Columbia University for advice on how to run a parade, you could give T. Eaton's advertising manager a chance, as he seems to make a fair job of his Santa Claus parade under nearly impossible weather conditions.

However, whoever you get, we can have the satisfaction of knowing it would be absolutely impossible for them to make a worse job of it.

Where was the Chamber of Commerce, with their new era ideas, out of town that day. Later that day I listened to a re-broadcast of the parade on CJCA and, I would say that whatever failings the announcer may have, lack of a vivid imagination is surely not one of them.

Bottle Pickup

Editor, Bulletin — This "Beef" to the Liquor Board. We are asked to return beer bottles. Yet when we phone to have these bottles picked up, we wait days even weeks. If we are lucky they show up within 2 weeks for our bottles.

Why not charge one dollar and ninty cents for beer. And let us just discard the bottles.

After all they cannot be badly needed.

Otherwise an effort would be made to collect them.

There are some of the people that will say don't drink beer, or liquor.

To those, I say, if we don't drink look how many men will be out of work.

And I think the staff in our Venders are much too nice, to be wandering around looking for work.

How about regular district pick-ups on beer bottles.

Radio Broadcasts

Editor, Bulletin.—Radio broadcasts—good, bad and indifferent. One takes them as one finds them and has to be content—or otherwise! After all, however, one can always switch off, for that is one's privilege, but alas; it occurs too often.

Lying in bed, recovering from a tedious illness, and well enough now to be bored, I turned the radio to CKUA at 1 p.m., Music Lovers' Corner, last Thursday, and ran into a talk by Alan Hood on individual musical instruments, with copious illustrations, all splendidly broadcast.

I have seldom listened to a more enjoyable program. The announcer's voice, his articulation, diction and phraseology, were, in my opinion, perfect. His whole program was an example of music appreciation such as I have rarely heard over the radio, and could be understood and enjoyed by the merest tyro in musical matters.

The illustrations chosen were, in themselves, a work of art, both as to melody, and meticulous exemplification of the types of instruments which the announcer wished to bring to our attention, culminating in—shall we call it—an ensemble, which left it possible to recognize in turn all the instruments to which we had already been introduced, and to realize each one's effect upon the orchestration.

A lot of time and care had undoubtedly been put into this program, which will stand out as a highlight in my radio listening. May we have many more programs like this from Mr. Hood, and maybe from other stations too!

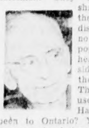
THE QUESTION: Do you think Edmonton should have more shade trees and avenues?

THE ANSWERS:

John Pastuzyk, 10648-107 street, salesman: Yes. We have a couple of shade trees in front of our house and it would be nice to see them on the boulevards. It makes the grass greener and give a good shady resting place in the summer. But any large-scale idea like that should be well planned by the city.

Bernice Davis, 10929-83 avenue, switchboard operator: It would give visitors and tourists a higher opinion of the city and make it more attractive in the summer. But I haven't lived in Edmonton very long, so I don't know if the city has anything planned.



R. E. Johnson, 10451-124 street, salesman: They should have shade trees in the residential district. But do not plant those poplar trees to heave up the sidewalks with their roots. They should use elm or oak. Have you ever been to Ontario? You can see avenues of oak trees that really beautify even the small towns.

Trevor Smallwood, 10960-74 avenue, salesman: Sure. I think it would improve the appearance of the city. I don't know what it would cost the taxpayers, but it would be worth paying for the original cost of the trees that are planted in front of our property.

Speeches Come Easy On Divorce Question

On April 5 David Croll, Liberal member for Spadina in the Federal House, moved a resolutioned aimed at enlarging grounds for divorce to include desertion of more than three years, gross cruelty, incurable mental disease after five years and legal presumption of death."

The resolution was debated briefly and was opposed by a number of members. It was finally withdrawn without a vote being taken.

The interesting fact is that the resolution simply called for a consideration of these points. It did not attempt to establish any rules. The matter of possible restrictions was left open. But the members were not inclined to consider even this.

British law has been changed to provide relief in such circumstances. It has been repeatedly pointed out that the existing Canadian law does nothing but encourage the commission of acts of adultery or acts of fraudulent deceit as the only means for securing a divorce.

Marriage Support Not In Question

The parliamentary debate rested chiefly upon the need to sanctify marriage. That is a proposition with which everyone must agree. No effort should be spared to make marriages as permanent as possible and if, by passing an act, it would be possible to legislate every marriage into a happy one, we should pass such an act as quickly as possible.

Yet for those members who do not seem to hesitate to vote for the divorces that are granted by parliament itself to shut their eyes to the fact that there are certain conditions that are crying for attention, is little short of a dereliction of duty.

Let us agree that everything possible should be done to maintain marriage once it is solemnized. But, what happens when a husband deserts his wife and small children? It is easy to say that he can be forced to support them, but that does not work out in practice. He must be located, and the police in Canada do not do much on that score. If he is located, it is not always possible to force him to pay anything.

Would these members of parliament care to provide for the maintenance of that wife and her children? No. They prefer to talk about the sanctity of marriage instead of doing something about it.

Alternatives For Wife

If the deserting husband happens to commit the necessary acts, and if this can be ascertained, the wife can obtain a divorce. Otherwise she is tied permanently. She can, of course, look for a job, but what does she do about her children? Someone else must care for them, or else she must turn them over to the authorities, with the result that the family becomes more broken than ever.

In a number of such cases a relationship known as a 'common law marriage' results. In quite a number of such sases a home is established, but it is illegal and the parties can be sent to jail, and they are sent to jail because they are not legally married, but the law prevents them from becoming legally married because there is no ground for a divorce which is a condition to their marriage.

The same situation results in cases where a husband becomes hopelessly insane, leaving a destitute family.

No Escape For Family

There are still other cases where a husband mistreats and abuses a family so badly that they are forced to get away. It is true that the police take a hand and the guilty husband may end up in jail. But that doesn't buy many groceries and neither does it do much for the sanctity of marriage.

It might be all very well to take pride in maintaining the family home, if something were done to remedy these cases of unavoidable hardship. It might be very necessary to apply many types of restrictions upon the granting of divorce. But it is equally necessary to apply some constructive thought to the remedying of the existing evils of our matrimonial system.

One could well support any constructive move to improve these conditions, but one can have little but disgust for members who shut their eyes to obvious wrongs and prate in bigoted ignorance about something over which there never has been any room for argument.

Sidewalk Foremen Need Organization

Memo to: Publisher, Vancouver Sun.

Subject: Sidewalk Superintendents' Club.

I have been over to the new Sun building at Beatty and Georgia Streets, prepared to give the contractors advice or suggestions on any technical aspects of the construction. However, the structure is coming along fine and the builders did not seem to require my assistance.

It does seem to me, however, that some provision should be made for the watchers, or sidewalk superintendents. Earlier in the week I reported that the Edmonton Bulletin has cut holes in the fence about an excavation in Edmonton, thus allowing the watchers an unobstructed view of the bulldozers and steam-shovels at work.

Surely the Sun will not want to take second place to the Bulletin in this sort of public service.

It is my suggestion that a small grandstand or bleachers be constructed. It might be worthwhile, too, to form some sort of club with membership badges, rules (no heckling of steam-shovel operators) and hot coffee for inclement weather. The Sun has done a splendid job in organizing 'teen-agers, but nobody as yet has given the proper attention to watchers.

Couldn't Come At Better Time

You will agree with me that these are troubling times. Many men find that watching, giving their attention wholly to the contemplation of destruction or construction, provides a temporary escape from the world's ills. This therapy should be made available and attractive to all, particularly to men who haven't much else to do anyway.

Since the old hotel came down there has been a scarcity of really worthwhile, or watchable jobs, and thus the new Sun building comes along at a most opportune time.

I have spent a considerable time, both my own and yours, studying watchers—a sort of watcher watcher you might say—and would be glad to give you the benefit of this experience in drawing up a prospectus for the club.

It may interest you to know, for example, that some countries, notably France and England, watching has been a highly respected profession for a great many years. The professional watcher in England is the equivalent of our foreman or superintendent. No cobblestone is laid, no street lamp bulbed, no wheelbarrow is trundled without his attendance.

English Type Superintendent

A foreman in this country is usually a large hairy citizen with a penetrating voice. The English version has no voice at all; or, at any rate, he makes no use of it.

He is usually a gentle-mannered, sober-faced gentleman who wears a black bowler and business suit. His role is limited exclusively to watching, which he does with an intense, hypnotic stare. He stands a decent distance away from any work, a figure of impeccable poise, wisdom and British confidence.

It is always one of the finer sights of London to see a worker, up to his pelvis in tangled underground telephone cables and gas mains being inspired by a Watcher. Confronted with a problem he will occasionally glance up in panic and confusion, meet the calm, level gaze of the Watcher and turn back to his task with new confidence.

Let the professional watcher lose that studied calm, that cool detachment, and chaos would obviously descend on the scene. I mention this merely to indicate the potentialities of watching as a character-building pursuit.

Opportunity In Vancouver

Watching is a universal occupation and our organization could quite easily expand to become an international body. Watchers vary some, depending upon the climate and temperament, but the approach is much the same.

The British Columbia Watcher is a good deal more conservative in his outlook. I have never known a Watcher to interfere with a worker despite the constant temptation to show him how the job should be done. When some obvious inefficiency is observed they merely whisper their comment to a fellow watcher.

It might be possible, in our Sidewalk Superintendent's Club, to allow the members a short discussion period with the workmen, but these details will have to be worked out.

IT'S SPRING drama time. Festival competition for Archbishop McDonald trophy will be held at USO hall April 24 to 28. Eight English and three French plays will be offered under auspices of Edmonton Catholic Drama Guild. St. Anthony's group will present Sham. Taking part are Jim and Janette Bresden, 11026 University avenue; Clif Dalsin, 10563-76 avenue, and Pat Gaudet, 10634-82 avenue.

Means Test Abolition Point Discussed Again

OTTAWA, April 18.—(CP)—The long-standing question of means test abolition came up in the Commons again yesterday.

Defence Minister Claxton approached it first, recalling that while he was attending Atlantic Pact talks in Europe last month John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre) had read a newspaper report quoting him as saying it would be abolished.

That, said Mr. Claxton, wasn't the case. The report, of a radio broadcast he had made prior to the 1949 election, was erroneous. What he had said was that the Liberal aim was a country-wide plan of contributory pensions which would help all to enjoy a secure old age—automatically and as a right.

CORRECTLY QUOTED

Other newspaper reports of his speech, he added, quoted him correctly.

Then Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre), long-time proponent of abolition of the test, posed a question for Health Minister Martin, absent from the chamber at the time.

He wanted to know whether Mr. Martin at any time made "any statement to the management and workers of Ford of Canada which they could take as an assurance that they could settle their pension negotiations on the basis of the means test being removed from the old age pension in the not far distant future?"

He suggested the question serve as a notice for Mr. Martin when he returned.

One In 100 Atom Finds Are Success

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

TORONTO, April 18 — (CP) — About one in 100 of all those uranium finds you hear about have a reasonable chance of proving worthwhile, it was indicated today by A. H. Lang of the Geological Survey of Canada.

In an address to the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, he said it is generally considered that less than one per cent of gold and base metal occurrences prove large and rich enough to become producing mines. There was no reason to suppose that this relationship will not also apply to uranium — out of which comes atomic energy.

NOT DISCOURAGING

However, he added, the high proportion of unsuccessful prospects has not prevented the establishment of important gold and base metal industries, and it should not discourage prospecting for uranium or the development of the better prospects.

Further, much territory favorable in a general way remains to be prospected and it is reasonable to assume that additional worthwhile discoveries will be made.

The Lake Athabaska region of Northern Saskatchewan has seen the most successful development work since the discovery of the Eldorado mine at Great Bear Lake, NWT.

Ontario, however, including the Sault Ste. Marie region, has more known occurrences than any other province.

ALBERTA COAL

W. A. Lang, senior research chemist, Research Council of Alberta, in a discussion of briquetting of Alberta coals, said that the extent to which both the railway and domestic market can be expanded will have an important bearing on the future of the Alberta coal industry.

Four briquetting plants in Alverta produced 460,643 tons of briquets in 1949. More than 55 per cent was sold to the railroads, and the rest as domestic fuel. Of the domestic fuel 35 per cent went to Manitoba, 27 per cent to Ontario, 23 per cent to British Columbia, seven per cent to Saskatchewan, six per cent to Alberta, and a small tonnage to the United States.

Canadian Atomic Pile For Peace

TORONTO, April 18.—(CP)—Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman of the defence research board, said last night the government's atomic pile at Chalk River, Ont., is primarily devoted to peacetime applications of atomic energy. "We are endeavoring to build up peacetime uses of atomic energy," he said in an address to the Toronto Board of Trade. "With this scientific potential behind us, we would be in a position to adapt our knowledge to defence should warfare develop."

Welfare Head Likes UN Aid

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 18—(CP)—A top Canadian welfare official Monday gave strong support to a United Nations recommendation for a long-range program to aid children around the world.

R. B. Curry, Canada's national director of family welfare services, told the UN Social Commission that the welfare of children is the commission's biggest concern.

He backed in general a report by Secretary-General Trygve Lie recommending a program of international aid to governments in their own child welfare programs.

Lie noted that of the world's 850,000,000 children under the age of 15, about 400,000,000 suffer from under-nutrition or malnutrition, lack of medical care or educational facilities.

Disease Sweeps Poultry Flocks In B.C. Areas

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Apr. 18—(CP)—Thousands of head of poultry have been slaughtered in a desperate attempt to stamp out the dread Newcastle disease, which threatens the $15,000,000 poultry industry in the Fraser Valley.

Nearly 50,000 birds have been killed by inspectors of the Dominion health of animals branch. The Dominion poultry branch is paying farmers two-thirds of the loss.

Newcastle disease is new to the Fraser Valley. It is believed to have been introduced from Eastern Canada or the United States.

If it continues, government inspectors fear they may have to vaccinate the 3,000,000 birds on poultry farms in the valley.

New Drug Cure For Rat Cancer

ATLANTIC CITY, April 17—(AP)—A potent new drug quickly cures many kinds of cancer in rats, two scientists report.

The cancers disappear completely in two to four weeks. The drug knocked out 80 to 100 per cent of various types of cancers in tests on 250 rats, said Dr. Kanematsu Sugiura and Dr. C. Chester Stock of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research, New York.

They ascribed the new drug, named SK-1133 to the American Association for Cancer Research.

Whether it will work against human cancers is not yet known, they said.

Two Pipeline Bills Not Well Received

Parties Charge Lines Would Help U.S., Bypass Vancouver

By James R. Nelson
Special to The Bulletin

OTTAWA, April 18,—(BUP)—Two western pipeline bills, fresh from a victory over a determined filibuster, appeared today to be headed for more troubles.

The Commons gave the two measures approval in principle yesterday in light votes at a time when many of the bills' western opponents had not returned from the eastern recess.

The bills would grant charters to two companies planning to build pipelines from Alberta oil fields to the west coast. The Progressive Conservative and CCF parties charged that the lines would run into the United States, preventing Vancouver and other B.C. centres from gaining full benefit from neighbouring Albert's gas and oil deposites.

FILIBUSTER STARTED

The two parties, aided by George Cruickshank (Lib—Fraser Valley) launched a filibuster at the last session of parliament that successfully blocked passage of the bills until yesterday.

When all CCF and PC members in the house had exhausted their right to speak, the bills went to a vote and were approved by votes of 101 to 29 and 106 to 26.

They were now scheduled to be studied by a committee of the Commons and it was here that fresh trouble lay.

CHALLENGES IGNORED

Liberal MP's from British Columbia, with the exception of Cruickshank, ignored challenges by opposition members to oppose the measures, However they indicated privately that they would call officers of the two companies, Prairie Transmission Lines Limited, and Alberta Natural Gas Company, before the committee to explain their plans.

If the companies planned to give British Columbia the short end of the stick, the western Liberals promised that they would oppose the bills.

They argued that the filibuster was against the principle of the bills, not the route to be followed by the pipelines.

The committee was the proper place to consider the route, they said.

NEW BATTLE PLANS

Conservative and Socialist members also were preparing new battle plans. The filibuster had only lost one battle, and it was not dead, they said.

Opposition members of the committee could continue the "talkathon" and when the bills came back to the Commons for third and final reading, all opposition members of the house would be eligible to filibuster again.

The opposition said they were not opposed to pipelines, they said all they wanted was to ensure that any line built followed an all-Canadian route to Vancouver, with any surplus gas then sent to the United States.

Uranium Ore Production Is Spurred Here

OTTAWA, April 18—(CP)—Trade Minister Howe said yesterday the government, while not dissatisfied, would like to have more uranium and he announced two new steps to spur the hunt for the vital atomic ingredient.

To encourage prospectors to search for radioactive ores, he told the Commons the period of a government-guaranteed price is being extended from March 31, 1955, to March 31, 1958, and that a formula has been worked out for negotiation of special prices to be paid by the crown-owned Eldorado Mining and Refining Ltd.

He was asked by Howard Green (PC — Vancouver-Quadra) if the government is satisfied with the present quantity of uranium ore being produced.

The minister said:

"The government has no reason to be dissatisfied. We would like to have more, but we have sufficient for our own purposes and have a surplus to sell to other friendly governments."

Underdog Fort Frances Squad Pulls Upset of Season

BRILLIANT netminding by Ed Phillips stood Fort Frances Canadians in good stead last night as they edged Calgary Stampeders 3-2 at Gardens in whopping upset. Here Phillips turns aside bid of Archie Scott (4) for a goal, with Chris Christiansen arriving in nick of time to clear rebound.

Hupchuk Nets Pair As Forts Win 3-2

He suited the action to his words by phoning Al Pickard, Canadian Amateur Hockey Association president, in Regina, requesting that an earlier decision to play the balance of the series in Calgary be rescinded.

"Pickard didn't give me much hope," Murray admitted. "But I mean to keep at him."

They say a little success can be a wonderful lift, sometimes. And that's how it appeared to be with Canadians last night.

HUPCHUK STARTED IT

After 12 minutes or so of the poorest hockey seen at the icehouse all season, Mike (Hotshot) Hupchuk staked Fort Frances to a 1-0 lead.

The same winger repeated less than four minutes later to make it 2-0.

And just about now you could almost hear those underdog Canadians saying: "Maybe we have a chance after all."

For the balance of the first period they skated the dazed Cowboys dizzy, even though Calgary's burly rearguard, Hugh Coflin, did turn on the light over Fort Frances netminder Ed Phillips' head with a blistering screened drive, 25 seconds before the klaxon went.

WORKED DERTELL OVER

Canucks continued to lick along in good style all through the middle heat, with 'Blacky' O'Donnell all but taking Russ Dertell out for a coffee as he counted a goal that made it 3-1 for Fort Frances.

There were signs that Canadians were beginning to tire as the final stanza went its way. Nevertheless they rationed the Western Canada league champions to a single marker.

Rookie Russ Tyrell took a relay from slim Herb Lovett at 12:45 to arouse Calgary hopes, at least momentarily. However Stamps, only a shadow of the club that eliminated Flyers in the league final, were unable again to beat Phillips who played brilliantly in the Fort Frances cage.

Stampeders were handicapped last night due to the officiating of referees Paul Bozak, Moose Jaw, and Hedley McDonald, Saskatoon.

TOUGH ON STAMPS

These gentlemen, apparently embarked on a two-man-clean-the-rough-stuff-out-of-hockey campaign "called" the Calgarians for just about everything.

Some of the alleged infractions for which Stamps drew penalties, were downright childish.

But no one—unless the Stamps—would begrudge Canadians their win. They didn't look like any great shucks of a hockey team. But they hustled from bell to bell, often out-skating a team that seemingly couldn't get that 11-0 trimming handed the Forts in the opener out of their minds.

And that hustle paid off handsomely.

WHIPPER WATSON . . . Tops Card.

'Whipper' Watson Rassles Tonight

A favorite of kiddies from coast to coast, Toronto's Whipper Billy Watson, founder of the Bulletin's Whippers Safety Club, will highlight promoter Al Oeming's wrestling card at the Stock Pavilion tonight as he tangles with rugged Danny Pleches in the main event.

Watson started 'his' Safety club back east several years ago, and on his last visit here the New Bulletin took over sponsorship in Alberta. Membership has already reached four figures.

Pleches, a 260 pound Nebraskan has never been defeated in Edmonton and has built up a 'cigarette-butt' rating with his rough tactics. But tonight he meets one of the trickiest men in the trade, and will probably have trouble using his 'bad-man' technique.

In the semiwind-up Victoria's Lou 'The Body' Newman, who took a severe beating from Pleches last week, will grapple with Chief Thunderbird. The big Indian rassled to a draw last week with Jerry Meeker.

Francois Miquet, muscle-bulging Frenchman from Paris, who last week won the favoritism of local fans with his fast, contortionist style of rasslin, is billed to mix it with newcomer Joe Corbett, of Saskatoon, in the special event.

The curtain raiser will feature Johnny Bartolevich and Steve Bellman.

Action gets under way at 8:30.

HIT .316 IN '49

Ducey Inks Dave Brockie

Dave Brockie will once more chase fly balls and bash base hits on behalf of Edmonton Eskimos in the Big Four Baseball league.

That was the announcement coming from Esk general manager John Ducey yesterday.

Brockie will play centre field for the Eskimos, a position he has held down pretty steadily since 1946. His speed afoot has established him as one of the better fly-hawks to come this way in recent years.

David is not especially lacking at the plate, his lifetime average, according to Mr. Ducey, approximating .315. He was slightly above that last year, belting at a .316 clip in 87 games.

Acquisition of Brockie gives the Eskimos two outfielders, the other being Marshall Johnson of Westwood, New Jersey, Ducey expects to sign holdover Cliff Johnston for the other outgardens' slot.

MODERN ART

For a consideration of several hundred bucks, you can rent advertising space on the walls of Renfrew Park, home of Edmonton's two Big Four Baseball league teams.

And in the next few weeks John Ducey, promoter, among other things, of hot dog consumption at Renfrew, will be busier than the old master painter as he redecorates the park for the 1950 season.

All the 1949 displays will be scrapped. The Henry Singer poster (said to be the work of a man named Brown), the mighty Cal's Men's Wear canvas (sometimes attributed to McRembrandt), and the Healy Motors advertisement (believed to be an early O'Corkingdale) will come down.

In their place Ducey will hang the paintings which he has been busy collecting in the off-season. It can be said right here that Ducey differs from the ordinary run-of-the-mill art collector: He gets paid for hanging murals on the ramparts of Renfrew.

Now, I think, from Ducey's point of view, that this is a sound step commercially. Artistically, however, it is a kick in the teeth for true art.

CAPITALISTIC CULTURE

Art lovers like myself have long thought of the Renfrew Park gallery, reading from the left-field foul line to the zone where the Texas league hits disappear in right field, as a mass of capitalistic culture.

I do not suggest that the park's sagging walls go completely nude. What I have in mind for Mr. Ducey's baseball park is a display of non-commercial art.

For example, in Renfrew Park I would devote the left-field panel to an exhibition of the Dutch masters like Vermeer and Rembrandt.

It is generally agreed in more up-to-date salons that a home run sailing over a Toulouse-Lautrec is superior to a home run sailing over a reproduction of a Smile Hat Shop chapeau. And a home run sailing over a totally blank wall means nothing to anyone, except the official scorer, who regards it as worth one run or more, depending on how many men are on base.

WHAT ABOUT 'WHISTLER'S MOTHER'?

I would hang a Corot over the bull-pen spot where Eskimo and Cub relief pitchers start warming up in the fourth inning every night there's a ball game on.

I would stud the outer reaches of Renfrew with great Italian artists of the Renaissance — Raphael Sebastian, Michelangelo, Andrea del Sarto.

The nearer vistas in right field would be festooned with the French moderns. It would be something to see young outfielders playing line drives off a Matisse or a Cezanne, especially their earlier works.

ART AND COMMERCE

Sometimes in Renfrew they combine art with commerce in rudimentary fashion. If a batter lets drive a ball that hits a certain haberdasher's ad, he wins a suit to fit him. If he socks the horsehide over another sign he wins himself a brand new fedora.

I am highly in favor of having ball players warmly and fashionably clad, even at the expense of not seeing the works of Picasso and Holbein. After all, in these days when a buck doesn't buy 100 cents worth of anything, you cannot blame young men for training themselves to hit baseballs at signs which offer material wealth.

Myself, I will continue to carry out my art studies in my den, the walls of which are covered with the works of a contemporary American named Varga.

Man on Street, Woman Too Likes Red Sox, Brooklyn

By Bart Gibb

"Who will win the major league pennants this season?"

Some picked Dodgers, some called Red Sox. Others were as lost as a country boy in New York when confronted with this question yesterday by an agent for Gas-house Gibb's Gallop pol.

According to the poll of 10 Edmontonians, in and out of the sport world, it will be just as the experts predicted: Brooklyn Dodgers and Boston Red Sox.

Dodgers, of the National league, were given four votes, followed by Cincinnati Reds, Boston Braves and New York Giants, each with one.

* * *

Red Sox netted four votes also, in the American loop, as New York Yankees came a close second with three.

The three ballots missing in each league belong to the apparently none-too-ardent baseball fans.

Following are the opinions of the 10 persons to whom the question was popped.

Prof. Maury Van Vliet, physical director at U. of A.: "Dodgers and Red Sox, but I would like to see Cleveland win." (Ed. note: Prof. Van Vliet's former college teammate, Joe Gordon, is with Cleveland).

Mary Wilson, office clerk: "Heavens to Betsy, what pennant? Oh, baseball! New York Yankees and Giants."

Greg Poulios, restaurant manager: "Brooklyn and Yankees. They got the stuff."

Leo Leclerc, hotel clerk, EAC hockey chairman: "Dodgers and Red Sox. They'll win it hands down."

* * *

Marg McCarron, office clerk: "Who's playing? I haven't a clue."

Al Oeming, wrestling promoter: "It'll be all Boston this year. Sox because they have Ted Williams, Braves because they have Warren Spahn."

Vic Batho, bowling enthusiast: "I haven't the faintest idea. I'm not much on baseball."

Benny Grabow, former junior baseball and football player: "Cincinnati Reds and Red Sox. Laugh if you like. But Ewell Blackwell will win 20 games for the Reds." (Ed. note: Experts rate Reds seventh).

Bill McGechin, floorman at local bowling alleys: "I don't even know the teams, but I listen to the World Series."

Lorne Steel, former junior fastball player: "Brooklyn and Yankees. Why?"

Ukrainian Soccer Team to Practice

TAKE SERIES LEAD

Pats Blank P.A. By 4-0 Count

PORT ARTHUR, April 18.—(CP)—Regina Pats last night blanked Port Arthur Bruins 4-0 to take a one-game lead in the best-of-seven series to determine the Western Canadian finalist for the coveted Memorial hockey cup.

Pats won the first game last week, 8-5, and dropped the second 6-3 on Saturday. Tomorrow they move to Regina ice for the fourth game. Fifth and sixth games are scheduled for Pats' home ice Friday and Saturday.

Pats outsmarted their charging opponents, weathered a furious first-period attack, and finally broke a scoreless stalemate at 18 minutes of the second period. They racked up three in the finale without a Bruin answer to hand goalie Bob Tyler a shutout.

MASNICK STARTED IT

Paul Masnick opened the scoring and Eddie Litzenberger, Doug Little and Lorne Davis scored singles in the third period.

Masnick, solid centre throughout Pats' season in the Western Canada Junior Hockey league, tipped in a pass from Gordie Cowan after a faulty Bruin clearance pass had been intercepted at the blueline.

Pats at the time were beginning to wear down the opening drive that gave Bruins a definite edge throughout the opener.

Early in the third, Masnick missed a great chance when Bruin goalie Paul Morin foiled him in front of the net.

COWAN MAKES IT 2-0

Jim Cowan shoved Regina into a 2-0 lead at the half-way mark when he caught the Port Arthur team disorganized in their own territory and slipped a pass across to Litzenberger for a clean-cut goal. Litzenberger skated right up to Morin's crease and pushed the puck past him.

The best play Bruins uncorked all night failed just seconds before Regina's third marker. Mickey Lynch passed to Gil Carlson in front of the net, but Bob Tyler beat what looked like a sure thing.

Little's marker was also rapped in from an open spot in front of the net. He took a pass from Brian McDonald and Harry Cowan and fired from the clear.

By this time Bruins' vigor had faded. Davis rapped one in with three minutes to go and it was all over but the formalities.

LINEUPS

Regina: Tyler; McGowan, MacNeill; McDonald; Little, H. Cowan. Subs: Masnick, Litzenberger, G. Cowan, Bregg, Davis, Hall, King, Sauve.

Port Arthur: Morin; Davidson, Bolvin; Wrightsnell; Johnston, Levesque. Subs: Lynch, Whalen, Carlson, Ripku, Matthew, Wilson, Southern, Kosolowsky.

Officials: Pete Ullman, Bernie Ost, Winnipeg.

SUMMARY

First Period: Scoring—None. Penalties: Hall, Matthew.

Second Period: Regina, Masnick (G Cowan) 17:14. Penalties: Sauve, Ripku, G. Cowan.

Third Period: Regina, Litzenberger (McGowan, Masnick) 9:14; Regina, Little (H. Cowan, McDonald) 13:26; Regina, Davis (Bregg) 17:23. Penalty: Whalen.

Derby Eligible Bang Up 2nd

Middleground didn't quite have it in the Request handicap at Jamaica race track, New York, yesterday.

Nevertheless the Kentucky Derby eligible rated as a 15-1 shot to take the three-year old classic at Churchill Downs, May 6, was a bang-up second to My Request.

Contestants in the Bulletin's third annual Kentucky Derby contest are busy these days trying to get a line, not only on Middleground, but also on such as Your Host, Oil Capitol, Bed o' Roses, Guillotine, Theory, Quiz Show, Navy Chief and more.

Idea is to name the first four horses across the finish line. 'Big' prize is a pass to the 14-day August race meeting, to be staged at the Exhibition half-miler.

There are other awards, as well.

In case of ties, these will be run off in connection with the Preakness, at Pimlico, May 13.

Starting Thursday, an entry form will be carried daily. Watch for it.

SAYS EAC CHIEF

Junior Puck Men Look to WCJHL

The Northern Saskatchewan Junior Hockey league does not compare too favorably with the Western Canada Junior circuit from a standpoint of calibre.

And that, according to EAC president H. L. (Budd) Williamson, is why his organization would like to see a composite club from Edmonton in the WCJHL.

Williamson was discussing a recent comment by northern Saskatchewan president Lou Whithers, which accused the Edmonton junior interests of backing out of a proposed Northern Saskatchewan-Alberta league. Said Williamson:

"I have had no correspondence with Mr. Whithers. Earlier, however, we indicated that we might join a northern league with Saskatchewan teams if it figured to be as strong as the WCJHL.

"However, we now believe that the WCJHL is the class of prairie junior hockey, and, naturally, would sooner see Edmonton in it."

Williamson also indicated that, if invited, he would attend the Northern Saskatchewan league's annual meeting, which is scheduled for Saturday in Saskatoon

The Clients Write . . .

Mrs. D. H. Hicks, 6329 - 118 avenue, city: "When the Mercurys had played a few games in England I remember an article by you in which (your) opinion was that our boys did not have a chance, unless they smartened up, and the pride of their Edmonton fans was rather exaggerated.

"To say the least it was a very unsporting attitude for a sports editor. Throughout the stay of the Mercs overseas, I have been watching for a kinder article by you, but it seemed you could only write nonsense about the Flyers, who made a poor show.

"Today I found an article by you on the Mercs and was I disgusted! A sports editor could at least be a sport and admit openly he was mistaken in his ideas.

"No such thing, from you. All you do is write like a smart reporter. I am no reporter and do not appreciate your kind of sports reporting."

Comment: Give Mrs. Hicks credit. She's a good hard hitter. And obviously she's carrying quite a torch for Jimmy Graham's Mercurys.

For which I say, more power to her, if that's how she feels.

However, Mrs. Hicks hasn't got her facts quite straight. At no time did I express the opinion that "Mercs didn't have a chance." What I did suggest was that "if Mercurys don't display plenty of offensive power before the London tourney, the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association will rush over reinforcements."

On this one I wasn't out on the limb. I had the assurance of hockey big-wig Dr. W. G. Hardy that such would be done "if, in our opinion, it seems necessary."

★ ★ ★ ★

Also I stated that "Canada could not afford to blow this one." This was generally agreed, particularly as the Communist-controlled Czechs were defending champions. The political implications in this one were so obvious, even to a "smart" reporter.

Upon the return home of the Mercs I said they had "done their job well." For the record, that still goes.

★ ★ ★ ★

Attention, J.R.K.: Thanks for 'them' kind words. But I'd feel pretty silly printing same. As you suggest, we'll try and keep up the good work.

P. R. Walsh, Redwater: "Since there has been so much controversy over the decision handed down on the recent Palmer-Marotti fight, and after reading judge Roy Haliburton's letter to the Bulletin, I feel that I must get my bit in.

"I have acted as referee and judged many fights, so I feel my knowledge of the sport is not entirely limited.

"Mr. Haliburton's letter has quotes from the rule book and brings out ways of scoring points quite well. Foremost is the question of clean, forceful blows landed on the target. From where I watched the bout, Palmer was landing the greater number and harder blows.

"With the possible exception of the 10th round, Palmer forced the fight . . . also he took the fight on the point of ring generalship.

"As for Mr. Haliburton's remark about sitting in on commission meetings, I have watched the boxing game around these parts with interest and have yet to hear of a commission meeting that was open to the public and press as they should be.

"Most of them seem to be private, with dining the main interest.

"If the commission would invite the boxing public to sit in on their meetings . . . I believe it would do much to increase the support of the fans."

★ ★ ★ ★

Comment: To the best of my knowledge, meetings of the Boxing and Wrestling commission are open to "the public." However, notice of intention to hold a meeting is not always forthcoming, although I don't think this is through fear of drawing the curtain aside as to what goes on at the confabs.

I think the greatest need is for the commission to go on a regular monthly meeting schedule.

★ ★ ★ ★

Re judge Haliburton's 'resignation,' it's still not official in that he hasn't put it in writing to the commission.

Can't see how resignation of a man whose experience dates through 30 years is going to help. Mr. Haliburton should be prevailed on to stay with the ship, criticism or no criticism of his efforts.

HOCKEY NEWS HONORS GOALIE CHUCK RAYNER

TORONTO, April 18.—(BUP)—"Chuck" Rayner, goaltender for New York Rangers, has been selected the most outstanding professional hockey player during the 1949-50 season by the Hockey News, semi-official hockey organ.

Hockey News also selected Jim Hendy, general manager of the Cleveland Barons, AHL finalists, as "best executive" and "Mud" Bruneteau of Omaha Knights as "best coach."

Selections were made known yesterday by NHL publicity director Ken MacKenzie.

ANDERSON REPORTS

Esks' Spring Camp Set to Open May 15

Major news emanating from a meeting of the Edmonton Eskimo football executive last night concerns spring training.

In a sentence, then, comes the news: Spring training will be held. Starting date is May 15. Training period is likely to continue for a month.

Among those who will participate in the early practices are the local aspirants to the club, two or three eastern Canadians, some Regina Bomber juniors and a few candidates from Vancouver.

Two of the Vancouver boys already are in Edmonton, same being Pete Smith and Don Tulley.

Manager Al Anderson reported on his recent eastern Canadian scouting trip to the executive last night. His findings and suggestions were approved and he was given the green light to carry on negotiations with several eastern prospects.

Names of these cannot be divulged at present, owing to the possibility of other clubs moving in on the players before said players have signed Canadian Rugby Union forms.

• • •

Meanwhile, coach Annis Stukus was back in circulation yesterday, following a month-long trip in his old Ontario and Quebec haunts.

He got a "good" line on several prospects, including a tackle who may act as Edmonton line coach. This character has seen service with Cleveland Browns in addition to several eastern Canadian clubs.

Stukus also reports that London is likely to replace Hamilton Tigers in the Ontario Rugby Football Union. Tigers merged with Hamilton Wildcats last winter to form one team in the Big Four. The merger left Sarnia, Toronto Balmy - Beach and Windsor holding the bag in the ORFU, but indications are that London will pick up the vacant franchise.

• • •

Maury Van Vliet, director of physical education at the University of Alberta, has recommended two Oregon players to Stukus. Van Vliet, an Oregon alumnus, has considerable in the way of contacts on the west coast.

• • •

While Doug Brightwell, formerly of Regina, is considered to have the inside track for the Eskimo centre job, there is some reason to believe that three Montreal boys will be given a test for the position

TALKING baseball, Eddie Stanky, left, gets over point to teammates Jack Kramer, centre, and Alvin Dark at Polo Grounds in New York. Giants open season today against Boston Braves, second baseman Stanky and shortstop Dark's former club. Kramer, former Boston Red Sox hurler, was waived out of American league from Red Sox.

Pennant Races Underway As Umps Cry 'Play Ball!'

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, April 18. — (AP) — Highly - heralded rookie hopefuls such as Sam Jethroe, Bobby Morgan, Al Noren and Luke Easter get their long-awaited opportunity to strut their stuff—for keeps—as the 1950 major league baseball season opens up on all fronts today.

Not one of the 16 clubs will field the identical team that opened the 1949 season.

DIMAG IN ACTION

The most significant change will be in Yankees' centre field where Joe DiMaggio will hold forth. The great New York slugger missed the first 65 games of the '49 campaign. He missed six openers in 11 previous active seasons.

World champion Yankees pick up right where they left off last October, engaging Red Sox in a four-game series at Boston. Those two rivals are almost unanimously regarded as the outstanding contenders for the American league flag.

The Sox will field the same team which started last year except for Al Zarilla in right field and Billy Goodman at first. Mel Parnell is Joe McCarthy's choice to oppose Yankees' Allie Reynolds.

In Cleveland the Indians clash with Detroit's improved Tigers.

For the first time in years, neither Bob Feller of the Indians nor Hal Newhouser of Tigers will be on the first day's firing line. Instead Bob Lemon, Cleveland's 22-game winner, probably will oppose Young Art Houtteman.

BRAVES VS. GIANTS

Some 30,000 Polo Ground fans will have a chance to judge for themselves who outfoxed whom in the swap that brought Alvin Dark and Eddie Stanky to New York for Sid Gordon, Willard Marshall, Buddy Kerr and Sam Webb. All except Webb will be in the opening-day line-up.

Braves also will show for the first time outfielder Jethroe, the fleet-footed freshman from Montreal. Connie Ryan, a sub last year, and Del Crandall, who joined the club last June, will open at second and behind the plate, respectively.

Columbus Goes to Dogs

COLUMBUS, O., April 18.—(CP) – Biggest international beagle trial in history opened here yesterday, with 600 hounds scheduled to run over the course by week's end.

Dog owners from 194 clubs in the United States and Canada are participating in the 21st annual Spring Derby Winners' stake and the 17th annual Futurity stake.

Phils Buy Two

PHILADELPHIA, April 18 — (AP)—Philadelphia Phillies yesterday announced purchase of the contracts of pitcher Bubba Church and infielder Ralph Caballero from Toronto Maple Leafs of the International league.

'RATTLER' MATHESON BACK IN STAMP FOLD

CALGARY, April 18. — (CP) — Riley (Rattler) Matheson, outstanding guard and linebacker with Calgary Stampeders football club last year, has signed again with the 1949 Grey cup finalists.

Signing of the former San Franciscon 49'er brings to four the imports which Stampeders have inked to date. Others: Ends Woody Strode and Sugarfoot Anderson, newcomer tackle Don Avery, formerly of Washington Redskins, and Matheson.

It also was announced Stampeders will hold their first spring workout May 1.

Pair New Judges For Thursday Bill

Two new judges will be appointed by the Edmonton Boxing and Wrestling Commission to score the fights on Thursday's card at the Stock Pavilion.

The two, according to EBWC secretary Alex Wynnychuk, are likely to be Dr. Harlan Taylor and Rocky Wagner. Taylor is destined to be a definite 'starter', while Wagner's appearance as a judge has not yet been confirmed.

In any event, Roy Hailburton and Jerry Delane will not be calling the winners Thursday. For some time they have been the Commission's choices to pick the best, as it were, on Jack Berry's cards.

However, after the recent Marotti-Palmer fight, in which Hallburton and Delane were responsible for giving Al Marotti a highly unpopular decision, the EBWC pledged itself to appoint some new judges.

Since that time, too, Hallburton has announced his retirement from judging after some 31 years of looking at prizefights.

No change is expected in the refereeing appointment for the main event, with Johnny Smith likely candidate to handle that chore.

Meanwhile, the fighters polished off their training sessions yesterday. Eddie Halligan arrived in town and worked out last night with Benny Geary and Marotti. Ralph Helms, Halligan's opponent, won't be in Edmonton until tomorrow.

Hal Robbins continues to look fairly sharp in preparation for his clash with Geary.

Promoter Berry plans to scout tonight's card in Calgary, which features Jimmy Nolan and Bobby Yeager in the main event. If Yeager is impressive, Berry may bring him here for a bout in early May.

HARTFORD, Conn.—(UP)—Henry Jordan, 147, Philadelphia, outpointed Tommy Bell, 150, Youngstown, O. (10).

STAMPS 'BUMS'

Fort Frances Cocky At End

Flyers' Colin Kilburn, voted the Western Canada league's most valuable player this past season was presented with the Gordon efficiency medal by Calgary sportscaster Ken Foss (CJCJ) following the first period of last night's Calgary-Fort Frances game at the Gardens.

In one of the briefest and most enjoyable presentation ceremonies in history, Foss merely handed over the medal to the Flyer winger, murmured his "congratulations" and called it a day.

★ ★ ★

Canadians were a cocky lot at the finish.

"Just an over-rated bunch of bums," one of them described the Stamps.

All were lavish in their praise of Gardens' ice and lighting. "The best ice we've been on since the playoffs got started," hero 'Blacky' O'Donnell shouted for all to hear.

"Hope we can come back here fore a couple more games," agreed Willie Toninato.

★ ★ ★

What more natural than that Ray Frederick, Flyer netminder and a Fort Frances boy in his own right, should call in at the Canadians' dressing room? Frederick formerly played with Fedoruk, Sampson, O'Donnell, Hupchuk, Christiansen, Toninato, Johnson and Kliner.

Toronto to Have Sunday Baseball

TORONTO, April 18—(CP)—A by-law permitting Sunday baseball at Toronto's Maple Leaf Stadium was passed yesterday by city council. The council turned down an amendment that would have required the Stadium to charge half-price for admission on Sunday.

Sunday sports act passed at the last session of the Ontario legislature, allowed municipalities to decide by a referendum vote whether they will allow sports to be played on Sunday.

Each municipality may pass a by-law setting out which sports may be played.

Sports may be played on Sunday only between the hours of 1:30 p.m. and 6:00 p.m.

LONDON BOOKIES HIGH ON PRINCE SIMON

LONDON, April 18 —(AP) William Woodward's American-bred colt, Prince Simon, last night was rated 7-to-1 favorite for the English Derby.

Bookmakers, in the latest callover, listed Masked Light as the second choice, at 8 to 1, and Golden Road as third at 100 to 8.

The Derby, a mile-and-a-half flat race, will be run at Epsom Downs, May 27.

Marlboros Thump Saints 11-3 in East Allan Cup Play

TORONTO, April 18.—(CP)—A sharp-shooting band of Toronto Marlboros turned Maple Leaf Gardens into a shooting gallery last night to score a lopsided 11-3 victory over Sherbrooke Saints and take the third game of their Eastern Canada senior Allan cup hockey final.

Marlboros now lead the best-of-seven series 3-0 with the fourth game in Montreal Saturday.

It was the goal-producing stick of 19-year-old George Armstrong, junior player earlier this year, that piloted the Dukes goal parade. Armstrong blasted home four goals and assisted on two others to delight the 9,784 fans.

BUCHANAN NETTED TWO

Al Buchanan was right behind Armstrong with two goals while John McLellan, Rocky Sullivan, Bill Hollett, Scotty Mair and Chuck Blair notched singletons.

Scoring for Sherbrooke were Paul Gladu, Reg Sinclair and Jacques Prefontaine.

Danny Lewicki, who rapped in goals which broke up the first two games, was held scoreless though he got four assists last night.

The hometowners moved into a 3-0 first-period lead. In the second session, Sherbrooke got one back, but in the third period, almost from the opening whistle, Saints fell apart and the Marlies moved right in.

MARLBOROS FASTER

The series thus far has been decided on the edge Marlboros have held in their faster skating. It was the same last night as at least two goals were scored when Marlboro players plainly outskated Sherbrooke checks.

Prefontaine, along with LeClerc in the nets, played good hockey but with the odd exception, the third period outburst by the Marlies was the result of a lack of hustle on Saints part and the blame could be equally shared by all.

The winner of this series will travel West to meet either Calgary Stampeders or Fort Frances Canadians in the Allan cup final.

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—(AP)—Los Angeles Monarchs last night trimmed New Westminster Royals 5-3 and squared the Pacific Coast Hockey league final at one game apiece.

Monarchs knotted the count at 3-3 near the end of the second period, Sam Kennedy scoring on a pass from Tom Fowler, and went ahead in the final period when Ike Hildebrand capped a series of passes deep in the Royal zone and finally rapped the puck home.

Jim Webster socked in the final Monarch goal unassisted, just before the final gun sounded.

Clay Lavell, Ollie Dorohoy and Hermie Gruhn scored for Royals.

Spokane Wins Title In Great Comeback

SPOKANE, Wash., April 18—(AP)—Spokane's Flyers capped their terrific comeback drive last night by skating to a 5-2 victory over New York Rovers in the final game of their United States senior amateur hockey playoff.

Win gave Spokane the series four games to three. Rovers led three games to one at one time.

Last night was a case of experience over youth.

Spokane scored twice in the first period and three times in the second to put Rovers in a deep hole.

But still the hard-fighting youngsters on the New York club refused to concede. They banged in two goals as the third period opened and kept the play in Spokane ice most of the period.

Odie Lowe, with an assist from Val Delory, poked in the first Rover goal with only 35 seconds gone. Stan McClellan pushed in the final goal.

Spokane now can meet the winner of the eastern-midwest playoff for the national amateur championship.

New B C Loop To Be Formed

He said that although the three Kootenay teams have not yet made official application, they have indicated they will do so shortly.

"The main question is whether or not it would be financially advisable. The question will be discussed at our annual league meeting in May."

Last year, the Okanagan-Mainline league consisted of five teams—Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna, Nanaimo and Kerrisdale.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—The movie business, eyeing television closely these days, also is eyeing the new medium's talent. Evidence of that is Charlton Heston, new film discovery imported from TV.

Heston landed an important role in "Dark City" on the strength of his video appearances. Producer Hal Wallis viewed him on a number of shows and signed the lad without a screen test. Naturally, Heston is hepped up about television. Says he:

"It's a wonderful new field for kids who want to act but have found the stage and screen closed to them." He pointed out that actors working in the theatre, radio and movies cannot do TV regularly. "That leaves it to the kids who aren't working."

NOTES 'N' STUFF

Friends of Rita Hayworth report she no longer signs her letters "Rita". It's "M.A.K." now. That stands for "Marguerita Aly Khan," her real name.

Joan Crawford, one of the most famed of the Charleston dancers, says she won't join the revival of the craze. "I've done the Charleston," she says "I'm looking for something new."

Ealeanor Tennant, who coached many a tennis star to championship, will be technical adviser for Ida Lupino's "Loving Cup." The picture purports to take amateur tennis apart.

ODD BITS

Maria Montez reports that she has done a play on television in France. She says the medium has advanced in Europe, but of course does not have the popularity it enjoys in the U.S. . . .

Aircraft is helping Hollywood make pictures these days. Chase scenes through Los Angeles streets were filmed from a helicopter by the "prowl car" company. . . .

And down at the desert, they needed photogenic clouds from "Tripoli" scenes So they sent up three sky-writing planes to splinkle the clear skies with clouds.

Salesman Dies

TORONTO, April 18. — (CP) — John Macpherson, 55, stricken yesterday while addressing a group of insurance salesmen, died from a heart attack. An underwriter for the Sun Life Assurance Company he was born in Winnipeg and was for some years manager of the western branch of the William Davies Company there. Surviving are his widow, two daughters, two brothers and a sister.

McGrath Tells Of Ways To Stop U.S. Gambling

WASHINGTON, April 18—(AP)—Attorney-General J. Howard McGrath told congress today that it could deal organized gambling in the United States "a knockout blow" by denying bookmakers the use of telephone, telegraph and radio service they need in their operations. Testifying before a senate commerce sub-committee, he urged passage of a law forbidding the transmission of gambling information across state lines. The sub-committee is considering such a bill.

Reassessment Said 'Racket'

COBOURG, Ont., April 18—(CP)—George Dunbar, Ontario minister of municipal affairs, said yesterday municipal reassessment is becoming a "racket". He told a meeting of district 5 of the Ontario assessors association he wanted to warn against reassessment because it "has come to be a racket and is spreading to the smaller centres We will not put up with it even if it means doing the assessment work ourselves."

DISHONOR BEGINS in home of big shot, Willie Stark, who slaps his son, in scene from "All the King's Men." Film stars Broderick Crawford, John Derek, with John Ireland and Ann Seymour. Story of big shot's rise to power is vividly portrayed in Columbia production which starts today at Rialto Theatre.

Crawford Tops In Role Of Political Big Shot

Portrait of a political big shot who caused a ferment in the lives of everyone in his state has been pitilessly etched in Columbia's latest release, "All the King's Men."

His morals, manners and women have been delineated with brilliant style and stunning impact in dramatic film, which starts today at the Rialto Theatre.

Broderick Crawford's performance of the ruthless big shot is likewise stamped with greatness. As Willie Stark, who thought he had the world by the tail, till it exploded in his face with a bullet attached, Crawford exudes a magnificent animal vitality.

DESTINY'S SON

Building his power as Governor, humbling his enemies and his friends, Willie literally was destiny's favorite son.

Even the lovely and aristocratic Anne Stanton, as portrayed by Joanne Dru, was swept off her feet by the irresistible Willie, forsaking her true love, newspaperman John Ireland.

Virtually the whole state ultimately worked for Willie Stark, in "All the King's Men" at the current wages of sin.

Rossen, who wrote the screen play and also directed, has done an exquisite job, capturing the electrifying drama of the big shot's life.

He has had the valuable benefit of some superb performances, in addition to Crawford's.

Miss Dru, who looks very beautiful despite several agonizing scenes, and John Ireland, hatchetman for the big shot, add to the legend of Willie Stark.

Others in the cast are John Derek, Mercedes McCambridge and Anne Seymore.

WASHINGTON, April 18—(AP)—Senator Millard Tydings (Dem. He said the "new avenues of investigation" will continue to centre on the state department.

Father Divine Is Planning Party

Fourth Wedded Year Marked To 'Spotless Virgin Bride'

VANCOUVER, April 18.—(CP)—About 50 of Father Divine's followers are expected to charter an aircraft here and fly to Philadelphia when the religious cult leader celebrates the fourth anniversary of marriage to a Vancouver girl.

Father Divine's proclamation invites the faithful to "come to the country seat of the world" April 29 where the father and the former Edna Rose Ritchings of Vancouver, his "spotless virgin bride," will be hosts.

So far 26 local followers have declared themselves ready to fly to the Philadelphia "heaven" for the ceremonies, but Mrs. Anne C. Harvie, a corporation executive and a "true follower," believes as many as 50 will make the trip.

"It should not cost more than $150 each," she said. "You can stay at the father's hotels there for $2 a week if you do not drink or smoke. Meals can be bought for 15 cents each if you are a true follower."

Mrs. Harvie said the local "heaven" had not heard directly from Mrs. Divine since the pretty blonde married Father Divine in 1946.

"She is beyond that," said Mrs. Harvie.

Lime can be harmful to lawns if applied too frequently, Scotts Lawn Research reports. Proper application is at intervals of two years and then only after soil tests to check on the acidity.

City Folk Criticized

Edmontonians received a stiff rap Sunday from the Canadian Legion for lack of public spirit and enthusiasm.

At a meeting Sunday of the Montgomery branch of the Legion, members decided to do something to boost the "carnival spirit" of the city.

Members decided the Legion, service clubs, Chamber of Commerce, and other bodies should be responsible for decorating of city streets for parades. Each body will take one block, if the Legion plans are carried out.

Suggestion came from Legionnaire Percy Gwynne.

The discussion came up after members discussed the poor display for the Mercurys' homecoming.

Interior of the Memorial hall will be redecorated, members were told in the business meeting. Cost will be $1,400.

Business 10 Commandments

Vice-president Briant W. Patterson of Canadian Linotype Limited. Toronto, sends in these Ten Commandments of Good Business:

A customer is the most important person in any business.

A customer is not dependent on us—we are dependent on him.

A customer is not an interruption of our work—he is the purpose of it.

A customer does us a favor when he calls—we are not doing him a favor by serving him.

A customer is part of our business—not an outsider.

A customer is not a cold statistic—he is a flesh-and-blood human being with feelings and emotions like our own.

A customer is not someone to argue or match wits with.

A customer is a person who brings us his wants—it is our job to fill those wants.

A customer is deserving of the most courteous and attentive treatment we can give him.

A customer is the life-blood of this and every other business.

It might just be a good idea to put these ten commandments on a big sign and take it along on shopping trips. What do you think?

Of course, puns about flying saucers were bound to come sooner or later. So take a deep breath and brace yourself.

Here's one submitted by Stewart Currie of 10325-116 street: An ambulance went roaring to the sawmill where the accident happened. The doctor asked the foreman how the man was hurt.

"Hit with a flying saw, sir," replied the foreman.

Cheer up. There'll be worse ones than that.

Calgary Peepholes

J. M. Morrison of Red Deer says that Calgary had swell peepholes around the new Barron theatre on Eighth avenue. Says credit for the Calgary peepholes should also go to an Edmontonian, Jack Cawston of the firm of Dewar, Cawston and Stevenson, architects.

Mr. Morrison also says he never has to sleep uptown when he's locked out. He has a broken window in his back door. He just reaches through and unlocks the door.

Who drove the blue sedan south on 113 street at 7:15 last evening, or has curb cruising become a lost art?

Story goes like this: Two ultra-smart chicks are walking east along 100 avenue. Driver of blue sedan stops and releases several honkfuls of horn. Ultra-smart chicks pay no attention. Driver of blue sedan falls back on time-tested wolf whistle. Ultra-smart chicks pay less attention.

Driver of blue sedan drives away, grinding his gears and his teeth. Slick chicks float away up the avenue.

End of story.

Second Suit Filed After Road Mishap

Second major lawsuit arising out of a traffic accident in which three people were killed has been filed in Supreme Court.

Dorothy Adeline Cawthorpe, North Battleford, is claiming $12,282.75 from William Trawney, formerly of 10348 - 93 street, and now serving a five-year manslaughter sentence in Prince Albert penitentiary.

Trawney was the driver of the car which collided head-on with another auto four miles south of Morinville last June 17. Colinton residents Mr. and Mrs. Altie Galbreath and Vincent Delancey, in the second car, were all killed.

PREVIOUS SUIT

About a month ago, Lute Galbreath, driver of the second car, filed suit against Trawney for $21,000 for damages arising out of the deaths of his parents and injuries to himself.

Also injured were Miss Cawthorpe and Peter Palmer, Edmonton, in Trawney's car, and L. Y. Satterlee, Colinton, passenger in the Galbreath car.

Miss Cawthorpe claims she suffered severe injuries, especially to her right leg, side and arm and to her head. She was unconscious for three days.

She alleges she has been unable to work at her trade as a checker since the accident and won't be able to for another two months. She asks special damages of $2,282.75 and $10,000 general damages.

In her statement of claim, she charged Trawney was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Her case is being conducted by Shortreed and Shortreed.

Farm Leader, E. Keith Dies

Alberta Wheat Pool director for many years, Emory Harry Keith of Sexsmith died in an Edmonton hospital after a long illness.

Mr. Keith came to Alberta from Nova Scotia in 1911 to teach school at Millet and Peace River.

Sexsmith delegate to the Alberta Wheat Pool from 1924 to 1936, he was elected to the board of directors in 1937. He represented the Edmonton division of the pool at the time of his death, and was also vice-chairman of the marketing co-operative, a director of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture and a director of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

Tyro Driving Tests Coming

System of testing applicants who have not previously held drivers' licences will be announced by government officials within a few days, it was learned today.

Testing will be financed from the provincial government's Unsatisfied Judgment Fund surplus. Motor Associations and Safety Councils will be asked to participate in testing drivers, it is believed.

Motorists applying for drivers' licences for the first time will be examined for their driving ability and knowledge of road regulations.

Labor Federation Meets In Fall

More than 100 delegates from all parts of Alberta are expected to attend the Alberta Federation of Labor annual convention in Edmonton this fall.

The three-day session will open Oct. 9 at the Masonic Temple, Herbert G. Turner, secretary of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council, reported at a council meeting last night.

FRIENDSHIP THROUGH YEARS

ONE OF CHIEF numbers in Edmonton Friendship Club's show is "Strolling in the Park One Day." Favorite with audience, also with cast, number sees N. M. Hansen, 9940-101 street; Mrs. A. Richardson, 11145-126 street; Mrs. M. Johnston, 8721-99 street, before floodlights.

New Hearing Aid Helpful For Star To Follow Lines

By STANLEY BURKE
Bulletin Staff Writer

The most heart-warming show in Edmonton had its first run last night.

Proving that life begins at 60, a cast of 46 members of the Friendship Club re-lived yesterday in their light, nostalgic Three Score Review.

The audience loved it—but probably not half as much as the performers.

OPERATION DELAYED

"They're the greatest bunch of troopers I've ever seen," said producer Jack Unwin.

One little old lady delayed her operation just so she could take part in the show. Another "star" bought a spanking new hearing aid so she could hear her cues.

For 63-year-old Mrs. Amelia Richardson, it was the fulfilment of a life-long dream.

"When I was a little girl back home in Nottinghamshire, I always dreamed of going on the stage," she recalled.

"I would have gone into the pantomime—my father was a performer—but he was one of those strict, old-fashioned fathers and wouldn't hear of it. Now I've achieved my ambition, you might say," she said.

Great-grandmother Mrs. C. Perry got cheated out of her act because her grandchildren were horrified to see her cutting capers.

"I was to do 'Make Dem Goo Goo Eyes'," she confided. "It was going to be a black-face number—but it shocked the grandchildren so they had to cut me into Sweet Bunch of Daisies."

"ACT AGE"

Sixty-nine-year-old Mrs. C. H. Upright had to be constantly admonished to "act her age."

"She's in the little old ladies' act," said director Unwin. "I keep telling her she's supposed to be old but she keeps dancing around the stage like a teen-ager."

Adding charming balance, and the sparkle of youth to the show, a troupe of 13 of the Edmon-Teens performers directed by Marie Wilce supported the old-timers.

Last night's opening performance was for fellow Friendship Clubbers. Show opens for the general public Wednesday in the recreation building and runs through Friday.

OLD CITY GAS BUS TO BE BOOKMOBILE

Edmonton's second Bookmobile will be ready for operation by July 1.

Librarian Hugh C. Gourlay last night reported to the library board that work on the bookmobile is starting at ETS shops this week.

One of the transit system's older gas buses will be completely rebuilt to bookmobile specifications at an estimated cost of approximately $4,000.

Two File Court Action To Get Farm From Son

A Shalka, Alta., couple have filed suit to get back the home and farm they signed over to their son five years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Eukzuk charged their son Peter violated an alleged agreement of Nov. 13, 1944, permitting them to live on the farm for the rest of their lives.

In their statement of claim, they contend that Peter Eukzuk twice ordered them off the lands in question, threatening "to kill and cripple them if they failed to obey."

FENCE CITED

Their son also, they claim, erected a fence depriving them of water and continually interfered with their use of the land.

Mrs. Eukzuk claims also that she didn't give her consent to the agreement although she signed the document of transfer.

The couple seek also to have their son repay $985 allegedly loaned him by his father in 1945.

With respect to the land, they ask cancellation of the 1944 agreement and registering of the land in both their names.

Shortreed and Shortreed are acting for the Eukzuks.

DEREHAM, Norfolk, England—(CP)—A canvas replica of a new war memorial is to be put up here. The idea is that residents can see how it will look after the real thing is built.

Labor Asks Elimination Of Crossing

'Temporary' Situation Now Running Into Thirty Years

Edmonton's 30-year-old "temporary" railway crossing will be subject of a Trades and Labor Council protest to civic authorities.

The council, meeting last night at the Labor Temple, agreed to file a protest to the city council for allowing use of the CNR crossing at 84 street and 110 avenue to continue.

An Edmonton resident died during the weekend of injuries suffered when his car collided with a train at the crossing.

It is expected the Trades and Labor Council protest will also be taken to the board of railway commissioners.

The crossing was put into operation in 1917 as a temporary measure, one of the delegates at the meeting said.

New crossing at 112 avenue to link with Norwood Boulevard was suggested as a possible alternative to the 84 street crossing.

About 5,000 Edmontonians are members of the Trades and Labor Council's 55 affiliate locals, the meeting was told. Membership is computed on the basis of fees paid regularly through union locals.

In a report requested earlier by the council, Herbert G. Turner, secretary, said the number of displaced persons entering Alberta this year is "practically nil" according to Unemployment Insurance Commission officials.

Single Shot Mountie Cops Two Suspects

Everybody knows a "Mountie" always gets his man.

This time the Mountie got two men—with one shot.

Story was told in Magistrate J. W. McCulla's court yesterday when Kenneth James Meagher and Thomas Steven Chapman were sentenced to three and two and a half years respectively in Fort Saskatchewan.

They pleaded guilty to charge of retaining a car stolen from H. Milton Martin, 9925-115 street on April 16.

The RCMP officer who made the arrest said he followed the stolen vehicle in a police car until it went into the ditch about five miles south of Edmonton on the Calgary highway.

He said the two men ran across the fields "in opposite directions."

"I took out after one of them," he said, "and then shouted to him to stop. He refused and I fired a shot. It stopped both of them."

School Work Is Sanctioned

Edmonton's school building program received official sanction from provincial authorities today.

Current issue of the Alberta Gazette reports the board has been authorized by the board of public utility commissioners to borrow $5,400,000 for school construction.

Authorization for three other Alberta school boards to borrow funds for school construction is also announced in the Gazette.

Pincher Creek school division will borrow $40,000 for high school construction; Rocky Mountain House will borrow $60,000 for school and teacherage construction, and Foothills School Division will borrow $110,000 for construction of an addition to the Vulcan school.

Eaton's Assist Red Cross Drive

Total of $64,702 was donated by The T. Eaton Company Limited to the recent Dominion-wide campaign of the Canadian Red Cross. The total was made up of a $35,000 contribution from the company across Canada plus a further $29,702.35 donated by the directors and employes through the medium of the Eaton Employes' Charitable Fund.

Course In Mud For Oil Workers

Love that mud!

Most Albertans curse the stuff but, come May 15, there'll be a little group in town who'll revel in in—like it so much, in fact, they are going to University for two weeks to learn the finer points of "mud appreciation."

The group will be made up of 70 oil men attending the University of Alberta's third annual mud school. The mud they study will, of course, be drilling mud—sometimes called "the most aristocratic dirt in the world."

They will learn the principles and practices involved in handling the vital fluid which makes oil wells possible.

Instruction will be given by a drilling fluid specialist of the University of Texas, assisted by members of the staff of the department of chemical and petroleum engineering at the University of Alberta.

Edmonton Butchers' and Packers' Supplies

Have moved from 9953 Jasper Avenue and will be found at their Workshop Warehouse at 9635 102A Avenue. Telephone 25561. The new store will be ready about June 1st at 10722-4-6 Jasper Avenue. (Advt.)

Small Butchers Face Crisis Over Increase

A crisis for the small butcher and grocer is seen as wholesale meat prices continue to rise unchecked.

Two weeks ago, wholesale price of grade A red beef was a record 43 cents a pound. It rose two cents last week and this week stands at 46½ a pound.

Big retailers are absorbing much of the increase, forcing smaller butchers to choose between higher prices and less business or lower prices and lower profits.

Thus, Edmonton isn't likely to get the dollar-a-pound hamburger predicted on the Pacific coast. But there'll be a lot of unhappy butchers around the city in the next few weeks.

In the long view, American importers are to blame. By buying a large percentage of Canadian prairie-bred beef at high prices, they are creating a shortage and high domestic prices.

Divorce Decrees

Supreme decrees of divorce were granted Monday to Feliksas from Mary Murauskas, Stella from Gordon McChesney, Peter from Lena Cocko and Stella from Murdoch James William MacNeil.

Decrees nisi were awarded John from Sophie Mickaskow, Ruth Lillian from Stuart Donald McLeod, and Mary Elizabeth from Robert Alexander Conlin.

She Named Tune and Won Prize From Adjudicator

An 11-year-old girl pianist won a dime yesterday from an English music critic.

No matter what Dr. C. S. Lang of London, Eng., played on the piano at McDougall Church Alberta musical festival program yesterday, Lorraine Bayzand of Edmonton could name it.

Lorraine won the dime with her identification of Brahms. She went on to win the piano competition by a very narrow margin over Gloria Cool of Calgary.

Dr. Lang was enthusiastic about the group of young pianists.

"I do think, as I have said before, there must be some very fine teaching in Edmonton," he said.

He liked Lorraine's facile switch from "the enormous fun" in the first selection played to the sad mood of "Melancholy," the second piece.

Later Dr. Lang was asked how he judged comparative excellence among child pianists who obviously had practiced a set selection a great deal.

"Some little thing tells you," the adjudicator said. "You notice the phrasing, that is, the grouping of the notes. You check whether the notes are clear. And you notice the pedal use. That is most important as poor pedal use causes blurring of notes."

Over at the Masonic Temple Alex Redshaw, adjudicator from London, Eng., took two classes of young competitors up on the platform after their contests and showed them how they could do better.

At the evening concert in McDougall Church Dr Lang re-played part of a chorus' selection to emphasize to them how he felt they might better have sung it. From their seats the chorus followed his playing in impromptu singing.

"Dr. Lang and I both feel that where the occasion arises, we should teach as well as judge," Mr. Redshaw later explained. "We feel we should impart what we can for the good of the festival and those taking part."

Both were enthusiastic about the quality of choral singing, instrumental music and teaching demonstrated at the evening concert. Its opening number was a charming ensemble by pre-school pupils of Edmonton College Kindergarten. Choral groups heard last night included 31 white-uniformed nurses of Edmonton General Hospital, Edmonton Youth Chorus and Woodward's Choral Society.

In the speech class competitions at All Saints Parish Hall, Mrs. Leona Patterson of Calgary was adjudicator. Winners there yesterday afternoon were: Grade VI recitation, Ronald Bebeau first, Sandra Clermont and Rita McGuire tied for second; Canadian poetry recitation, under 12 years of age, Myrna Clarke first and Eric Schloss, Camrose, second; under 13 years, Douglas McCallum, first, Joan Stack and Donoald Litepio tied for second.

Canasta Covers Come To Players' Rescue

By Bea Thrifty

I've been the reluctant dragon about canasta playing in our happy home . . . but I, too, have finally fallen into the time-consuming ways of the game.

And I'm blaming it all on a shower present a young bride-elect insisted on showing me. Present was a plastic canasta table cover with the complete set of rules neatly printed over its surface.

This way new players could constantly refer to the rules instead of asking foolish questions (like me).

* * *

Now, prompted by my curiosity I delved about a bit in local shops and spotted the canasta covers selling at $1.69 in various colors.

Sidling into the picture with this card craze is the handy-dandy new one-sitting bridge table sets of cloth and napkins in lineny-like paper.

Four serviettes and "cloth" to match are included in the 29 cent effort. Now for young and impoverished stay-at-home entertaining they'd be an ideal arrangement wouldn't they?

* * *

With this beef about prices being tops on over-the-backyard-fence conversation lists . . . lots of us homemakers are depending on lamb for Sunday roast . . . for a change from pork of course.

Well when we're lamb-menu-minded the family oh and ah with delight . . . if I happened to treat same roast with a special master touch.

* * *

I spread the meat, when almost done, with a paste of chopped parsley, breadcrumbs and butter with lemon juice, salt and pepper . . . and incidently make it lots 'n lots of chopped parsley.

Now is time to pop roast back in oven for the rest of cooking . . . and eating time compliments are ample reward for the bit of extra trouble.

* * *

Taste-teasing fancy I enjoyed out partying the other eve was a goody composed of mushrooms, chicken 'n all sorts of things.

Simple to whomp up for a small informal tea, the bridge-table gals . . . or even a light supper at home with the kids.

Now secret is to add leftover chopped chicken to tin of condensed cream of mushroom soup; spread works on de-crusted bread slices.

* * *

Next major move is to roll said slices and secure with a tiny toothpick . . . colored or otherwise.

Time to pop into hottish oven now until bread is toasted a golden brown and filling is hot and bubbly . . . mmmmm don't they sound scrumptious?

When removed from oven . . . or broiler if you'd rather . . . cut rolls in half and serve to your hungry guesties . . . they'll love them. I know 'cause I was a guestie when I first tasted them . . . and oh how I loved them!

Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For WEDNESDAY, April 19, 1950

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Great care and prudence urged today in matters requiring analysis. Where added responsibilities or legal difficulties may be incurred. Attention to YOUR duties will turn out well.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Indicators point to some tricky situations, perhaps from one person, but you be your naturally serene self and you will win favors, benefits, as well as help others to [illegible].

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Slightly indifferent influences in your sector but Mars is favorable and some other friendly influences augur well for good returns from decisive constructive management.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Your Moon stresses diplomacy in personal contacts, seeking favors in matters where your personal attention is required. Useful matters, familiar work, military affairs of interest.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Neither too favorable, nor yet too restricting or unfriendly. Mostly up to you and what is actually expected of you today how much you can accomplish. Remain calm! Think!

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Similar tendencies here to Gemini. Should be responsive day to thorough, efficient effort and sound planning. But don't worry if all private wishes aren't realized.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—You may find both people and some conditions trying at times today but you naturally love peace and balance so can handle things nicely IF you try. Occupational gains favored.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—In business deals, financial and legal transactions be very careful not to overpromise or make needless mistakes that cause money or other losses. Be conscientious in all things.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Stimulating but may not be easy day on whole. Women seem to be on guard against foolish moves, errors which cause trouble and are necessary. You can advance some, keep trying.

December 23 tot January 21 (Capricorn)—Very similar indications to Sagittarius now. Be your sensible self, keep patiently at tasks without anxiety. Familiar routine duties, study and home interests can run smoothly.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Start day with vigor and hopefulness and you will soon banish the gremlins that may lurk about. A good day to test one's mettle, stick-to-itiveness. Some solid gain possible.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Same trend of uncertainty and pesky little problems as we all have today. Forewarned is forearmed and with this in mind, pitch in and do your best. Every day something can be achieved.

You Born Today—Many planetary configurations this 1950 promise new undertakings of value and interest to you of this date. Be sure you have purposeful and definite objectives and prepare NOW to exercise necessary patience and fortitude to reach that objective. Perseverance, clear thinking very important. You have much talent and excellent leadership qualities, should strive ever to increase your knowledge of the worthwhile and pray God for right direction. NOW PUCKER—This exercise may not appear beautiful as you do it, but it will help you retain a youthful, attractive face.

WHY GROW OLD

Facial Exercises Help To Keep Us Youthful Looking

By Josephine Lowman

Women ask me whether facial exercises actually do any good. All I can answer is that many, many women who have used my leaflet of facial exercises have written that all of their friends are asking them what they have been doing because they look so much younger, and that all of the extremely youthful looking older women I have known have used them for years.

Part of the aging of the face is due to lessening in tonus of the tissues and also to less fatty deposit between the muscles and the skin. However, some of it comes from lax, atrophying muscles.

This exercise is especially good for the muscle about the mouth. The old command "pucker," when you are about to be kissed, I would change to, "Pucker, and you are more likely to be kissed." Pucker the lips in an exaggerated way. Then pull the lips back in an exaggerated smile, lips open, and corners of the mouth lifted. Do this slowly.

Before taking any facial exercises you should lubricate your face well with an oily cream. Let this stay on and soak in for a while before doing your exercises. In this way you avoid creasing the skin.

If you would like to have my Facial Exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 9. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

An Intelligent Woman Can Make Herself Fascinating

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you think that a woman who was not endowed by nature with charm can acquire it by thought and study?

VIOLA.

ANSWER: Consider in what charm consists. As near as we can put it in one word, it is in an individual's being agreeable. Pleasant to look at, to listen to, to be with. Any woman can accomplish these feats.

Her fairy godmother may not have endowed her with beauty, but short of being a hideous monstrosity, that does not matter. Any woman can be easy on the eyes who is willing to take pains with her personal appearance.

NEED NOT BE BRILLIANT

Then any woman can make herself an interesting companion. She need not be brilliant or learned; indeed, some of the least charming people in the world are pedantic highbrows who are pompous and self-conceited and make every one with whom they come in contact feel as if they were morons.

A woman need not even be a good conversationalist to have people enjoy her society. She need only be a patient listener.

Any woman can learn how to do things. She can learn how to dance, how to play games, how to play a good game of contract. Thus will she be assured of a welcome wherever she goes for the woman we dread is the one who is a sort of a bull in the social china shop and who always smashes everybody's plans and arrangements.

Any woman can learn how to do and say the right things. Doing the right thing is merely taking a little trouble and using a few lobes of your brains. It is writing a note of thanks for courtesies received.

It is sending notes and telegrams of condolence to those who are in trouble, and of congratulations to those who have achieved some object on which their hearts were set. It is sending flowers and making calls and leaving cards, and generally doing as you would be done by.

So, my dear Viola, if you learn how to dress so as to make yourself attractive looking and acquire the art of starting other people to talk about themselves while you listen with a rapt look upon your face, and if you learn how to say things to people that make them feel pleased with themselves, I think you will have a made-to-order brand of charm that only an expert can tell from the kind that Nature turns out in its most expansive moment.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Bad Habits Not Cured By Introducing Others

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Not infrequently parents try to cure one problem and thereby develop another; such as the baby who won't go to bed and is put in the parents' bed and then develops the habit of sleeping only in that bed.

It is not always easy to determine why a child is so habited to milk drinking that she will not eat even the foods that are necessary for her proper development. The following is one way a mother handled this situation.

Mrs. J. K. W. writes, "Our little girl who was one year old in January was eight pounds at birth and through failure to breast-feed she was put on a dried-milk formula. She got orange juice at four weeks, vegetables at eight weeks, and meat at twelve.

"The latter two were complete failures and it is only recently that she has begun to eat those foods from a spoon. Even when I diluted her food with milk, she would not finish it. She wanted to drink only milk.

"In desperation, one day, I poured all her food into her bottle and she drained it dry. Although not the conventional way to give foods the doctor approved as he said it was important that she get them.

"Now in the course of a day she has an egg yolk, six tablespoons of cereal, one jar of fruit, three to five ounces of fruit juice, gelatine or other puddings a few times during the week and both a vitamin and a mineral supplement to the milk.

"She has just cut her third and fourth tooth, stands in her play-pen, weighs 22½ pounds, height 31 inches, and she has crept all over for a month.

"I wish it were possible for you to pass on this suggestion to the woman whose baby drank nothing but milk. It certainly helped in our case."

I am glad to do this. I am confused as to whether the year-old is getting all those foods mixed with her milk in a bottle or if, now, she is taking all of them by spoon.

The disadvantage of such a practice is that the child does not become acquainted with the spoon as a feeding utensil and does not learn to like the feel of solid foods in the mouth. These are all necessary steps in the child's development and it is a shame to deprive her of them.

Our leaflet No. 35, "Poor Appetites," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

BRIDGE

Overtricks Are Evil Tempters

By William E. McKenney

Greed is the cause of many disasters at the bridge table. Hoping for an extra trick, the player reaches out for more than he can make, and as a result loses that which was surely his. Today's hand illustrates this point.

The opening lead of the king of spades held the first trick, and West led the four of diamonds.

East won with the jack and returned a spade, West winning. Figuring that it was useless to attempt to establish his fourth spade, West now returned the five of diamonds. The six was played from dummy, and East cleverly played the seven. To play the king would be to give up all hope of defeating the contract.

South won the trick with the nine of diamonds, cashed three heart tricks, and then led his last diamond. When West played the eight, South fell into the trap laid by East and yielded to the urge for an extra trick. He finessed the queen of diamonds, and East's king won.

Thus South was shut out from dummy and at the end was forced to concede a club, going down one trick.

Jeanne Simpson Becomes Bride Of Edgar Thomson Jones Here

In a late afternoon ceremony performed recently at Metropolitan United Church Jeanne Winnifred Simpson became the bride of Edgar Thompson Jones.

Rev. Reid E. Vipond read the marriage lines for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Simpson of Edmonton, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Jones of Vancouver, formerly of Edmonton.

The bride was escorted by her father to an altar decked with spring blooms. She chose an ivory brocaded satin gown, made with an Elizabethan collar, lily point sleeves, and a full skirt terminating in a graceful train.

ILLUSION VEIL

Her veil of ecru illusion was caught to a wreath of orange blossoms which had been worn by the bride's mother on her wedding day, and her only ornament was a necklace, a gift from her father to her mother.

Her white prayer book was topped with orchids, and white and purple streamers caught with heather.

SISTER ATTENDS

Green taffeta dress was worn by Miss Marie Simpson, who attended her sister. She carried a fan-shaped bouquet of daffodils and cream roses and wore matching flowers in her hair.

Little Linda Gay Stewart, flower girl, was frocked in yellow nylon sheer, with a nosegay of roses and white hyacinth. Richard Craig was ring bearer.

Best man was Arthur Craig, and the guests were ushered by Mel Stewart and Eric Simpson.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. J. V. Dodds, and Mrs. William Rowley sang "With This Ring I Thee Wed" and "O Perfect Love."

Reception for 75 guests was held at the Macdonald hotel. Mrs. Simpson received in a ballet blue gown with grey accessories and sweetheart roses and stephanotis en corsage.

Blush grey gown was chosen by Mrs. Jones, who wore pink accessories and a corsage of gardenias and sweetheart roses.

Pouring coffee were Mrs. William Durrand and Mrs. P. B. Baragar. Bridal toast was proposed by Fred Turnbull.

Following a honeymoon trip to eastern Canada and the mid-western states, Mr. and Mrs. Jones will make their home in Edmonton.

For travelling the bride wore a three piece suit of [illegible] red barathea with navy accessories. Orchid corsage was pinned to her mink scarf.

Catherine Marie Boffa Wed In Yellowknife Ceremony

Wedding of interest to Edmonton, Calgary and Vancouver was performed recently in Yellowknife for Catherine Marie Boffa and Kenneth Gordon Horby.

Bride is the eldest daughter of well-known bush pilot Ernest Boffa and Mrs. Boffa, of Yellowknife. Bridegroom is son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hornby, of Vancouver, formerly of Yellowknife.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dove grey gabardine suit with white accessories. Flowers on her white straw sailor blended with her nosegay of spring flowers.

Bridesmaid, Miss Myrna Lou Evans was in aqua gabardine. She wore a tiny pink straw bonnet and carried a nosegay of roses.

Best man was John McNiven.

Before an altar decorated with white tapers and spring flowers the ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas Greenwood of Holy Trinity Church, and Canon J. H. Webster of St. Andrew's Mission, Coppermine, NWT.

Wedding music was played by Frank Megill. He accompanied Mrs. Frank Anderson who sang "Because" during the signing of the register.

Receiving, bride's mother wore a navy suit, tiny blue hat and corsage of red roses.

TRIPLE-TIER CAKE

Bride's table was laid with a white cut-work cloth. It was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by white tapers.

For plane trip to Edmonton, the bride donned a tailored grey felt hat with her suit and orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Hornby will take up residence in Calgary.

Even Ancient Kings Didn't Have Forks

For ages and ages men never dreamed of having knives and forks. The first sort of knife they used was probably the sharp edge of a shell, gathered on the beach where they caught shell-fish for food. By and by, they improved on this idea by making knives and axes of flint and stone.

The men of the Stone Age used their flint knives for cutting up the flesh of animals, just as the Indians did when the [illegible] America. They did not need forks. Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

If you don't know where Miss Mouse was, when Uncle Wiggily was telephoning to her boarding house, I will tell you now. The Lady Mouse Teacher of Hollow Tree School was in a deep snowdrift just outside the school. She had called for help. Huggy, the rat gentleman who had no home, had heard the little, squeaky voice of Miss Mouse.

"I am coming to get you, Miss Mouse," called Huggy. He was now assistant janitor of the school. Mr. Rufus Coke was the real janitor.

"Just as soon as I can go down cellar, Miss Mouse, and get a shovel, I will dig you out of the snowdrift," said Huggy.

"I'll hurry," promised the kind rat gentleman. He was soon up out of the cellar with a shovel. Then he dug his way from the schoolhouse door, through the snow until he reached the drift where Miss Mouse was caught. Huggy put the shovel under the teacher, lifted her up on it and hurried back into the school. He closed the door to keep out the snow and cold.

"Oh, it's nice and warm in here, Huggy," said Miss Mouse. And now her voice didn't shiver.

"Yes'm, Miss Mouse. I made the fire hotter. You have to stay here all night."

"Stay in the school all night, Huggy? Oh, I couldn't do that!"

"You may have to, Miss Mouse. I don't believe you could get through the drifts to your home."

"You can telephone to her that you are here," said the assistant janitor of Hollow Tree School. "Then she will know you are all right. I'll go down cellar and put this cold shovel by the furnace so it won't catch cold in its handle. You can telephone."

"Yes, Huggy, I'll do that. But where am I going to sleep?"

"You can have the cot where Mr. Coke sleeps when he stays here all night, Miss Mouse. Mr. Coke has gone home."

"Yes, Huggy, I know he has. He went home early, as did the boys and girls, before the storm was as fierce as it is now. I suppose I could sleep on Mr. Coke's cot. But what about supper, Huggy?"

"Oh, I have plenty to eat, down cellar. The boys and girls have been bringing me baskets of lunch. We can have a regular school picnic."

"That will be nice, Huggy. But where will you sleep?"

"Oh, I have a hole under the coal bin where I was sleeping before Mr. Coke hired me as his helper. I'll take a blanket in the coal hole and sleep there."

"All right, Huggy. Then we'll make the best of it and have a school picnic in the storm. Now I'll telephone Mrs. Cream Cake."

"Oh, this is too bad! The telephone is out of order! I can't let Mrs. Cream Cake know that I am safe in school. Oh, what shall I do. She will be so worried about me!"

"What's the matter, Miss Mouse?" Huggy ran up the cellar stairs.

I'll tell you more tomorrow if the electric egg beater doesn't whizz-whee so fast that the lump of butter can't get on it to have a merry-go-round ride with the lump of [illegible]

Sickness, Malnutrition Spreads Among Eskimos

CHURCHILL, Man., April 18.—(CP)—An army doctor from nearby Fort Churchill has found widespread sickness and malnutrition among Eskimo settlements about 500 miles north of here, it was learned yesterday.

[illegible] three deaths recently among Eskimos in Igloo settlements on Southampton Island, Northwest Territories.

Maj. L. Lavallee, who travelled by air to the district April 12, says there is evidence of a high rate of tuberculosis. Lack of vitamins has caused eye inflamation and skin lesions.

He brought five patients to Fort Churchill.

Among 40 Eskimos examined (a small percentage of the population), Maj. Lavallee found four cases of [illegible]—two of them advanced—and one of hernia.

Nova Scotia Premier Sees Big Deficit

HALIFAX, April 18. — (CP) — Premier Angus L. Macdonald Monday night brought down Nova Scotia's 1950 budget, forecasting the first deficit in more than a decade.

He predicted a deficit of $1,835,297 for the 16 months ending March 31, 1951.

He said, too, the province may have to resort to a sales tax if revenue is to keep up with mounting expenditure.

Earlier in the session, he had said that no increases in revenue could be expected without new taxation.

He forecast total expenditures for the fiscal year of $49,490,906.93 with revenues of $47,655,609.10.

Revenues for the last fiscal year—the 12 months ending Nov. 30, 1949—were $35,404,211.03 with expenditures of $33,387,165.33, leaving a surplus of $112,855.70.

The estimates were larger because the current fiscal year will run for 16 months, the result of a move to change the fiscal year from Dec. 1-Nov. 30 to April 1-March 31. The current fiscal year will run from Dec. 1, 1949, to March 31, 1951.

Dancing Tribesmen Hail Bechuanaland Chieftain

SEROWE, Bechuanaland, April 18.—(Reuters)—Seretse Khama, banished chief-designate of the Bamangwato Tribe, Monday told hundreds of dancing and shouting tribesmen and women from all parts of Bechuanaland: "I have been driven away from my country."

Seretse now is on an authorized visit here to his London-born wife, formerly Ruth Williams.

The crowd, gathered in the grounds of his house, gave him and his wife their greatest ovation when they appeared on the verandah.

The crowd shouted the royal greeting, "Pula Pula," and danced wildly, waving shawls and blankets.

The 29-year-old chief-designate arrived here last week-end for a temporary reunion with his wife, expecting a baby this summer. The British government has banned him from assuming leadership of the tribe for five years.

NO SPEECHES

Telling the people the terms of his return for five days, Secretse today said he is unable to address meetings.

"On Friday I must be gone. I do not know when I will return. I have been banished for five years because it is said that if I were here there would be trouble, and progress would be impeded.

"This peaceful crowd shows this is untrue. My wife and I have been here several months and all the time we have seen no trouble."

Seretse referred to other Bechuanaland tribes represented at the gathering.

"The government contends they do not want me," he said. "This shows they want me. If you do not like me I can be driven away."

But the rejected suitor claimed the snake was not his idea. He said he still prefers to send flowers.

Education Is Subject Of Brief To Commission

OTTAWA, April 18.—(BUP)—Federal aid to education came to the fore in presentations to the Royal Commission on Arts, Letters and Sciences today.

The Ontario Teachers' Federation said education in some parts of Canada was below par because of inability of those areas to pay for a higher standard. It recommended increased federal subsidies to the provinces which it said would equalize educational opportunities throughout Canada.

Student veterans of the University of British Columbia, in a brief sponsored by the UBC branch of the Canadian Legion, supported the plan.

British Paper Points To Canada's Oil Example

LONDON, April 18.—(Reuters)—The Conservative Daily Express says in an editorial today there is "a lesson for Britain" in Canada's efforts to make all her western area independent of United States oil supplies.

The paper, of which the controlling shareholder is Canadian-born Lord Beaverbrook, said that in Canada "adventurers, under the influence of progressive and enterprising company directors, are in process of making all Western Canada independent of the United States in respect of oil sdpplies.

"Ten years ago such a project would have been considered impossible of fulfilment. Five years ago it was still a plan.

"Now, from Alberta, oil gushes forth in abundance. By the end of next year Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Western Ontario will need no oil from the United States. And as soon as pipe lines are laid, other provinces will join them in their independence.

"The benefits to Canada are many. For fuel has been a most distressing shortage in the Dominion; and dependence on the United States a weariness.

"In the Canadian achievement there is a lesson for Britain.

"For here, too, dependence on America has been distressing. And here, too, relief would be exhilarating to national pride.

"The lesson? Send our adventurers over the Empire to seek out—as the Canadians sought out—untapped oil deposits.

"And then insist that these pools of power are developed and brought into the service of the Commonwealth.

"The result for Britain? Riches and honor, wealth and power."

CIVILIZATION CATCHES UP

Fifty-Year Old Whitehorse Gets First Municipal Setup

By A. B. GARRETT

WHITEHORSE, Y.T., April 18.—(CP)—This lusty Yukon town that sprang from the Trail of '98 will soon close a colorful chapter in its history. Fifty years old, Whitehorse is due this year to "come of age" with its first municipal government.

Until now, the community has been governed by the Yukon territorial council, with headquarters in Dawson City. Under a statute, soon ready for proclamation, Whitehorse will take over management of some of its own affairs.

The Yukon council will continue to operate schools and hospitals, and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police still will be on hand to rout Klondike die-hards with their fabulous three-dice game, Ace Away.

But Whitehorse will look after things like streets, sidewalks, lights and fire protection.

It will elect its first mayor and four councillors. They will collect taxes now levied by the Yukon Council. Similar local government is to be set up at Dawson City and Mayo. It will be a second try for Dawson, which was incorporated as a city in the flush of the gold boom, then reverted to the Council's charge when hard times put the city on the rocks.

In Whitehorse, some see the move as the first towards incorporation as a city. The settlement was given that choice in a plebiscite this month but turned it down by a slim margin.

Incorporation would have given the city greater power to borrow for current expenses, and also would have permitted it to issue debentures up to an estimated $300,000 for capital projects.

Municipal status will permit the community to borrow only for current expenditures.

This rules out, for the present, construction of badly-needed sewage and waterworks facilities for the sprawling settlement of 4,500.

George Lee, councilman for Whitehorse on the three-man territorial council, said nothing has been lost. A 60-per-cent "yes" vote was needed to incorporate a city. The scheme got the approval of 57.4 per cent.

Mr. Lee said the vote indicates the people soon may be ready for something more ambitious. It will take a year to get the machinery of local government working. No major project could have been undertaken until next year. Extensive surveys will be needed.

Parts of the community now have their own waterworks, but outdoor plumbing, private waterwells and septic tanks are common. "We have been lucky to escape a major epidemic so far," said Mr. Lee. "But we can't gamble much longer."

In strict enforcement of garbage bylaws now is a vital factor controlling the spread of diseases.

The councilman said some opposed incorporation, fearing higher taxes and debt.

This Family Found New Hope Against Tooth Decay!

Think what this tooth powder can mean to your family!

You probably have heard of Amm-i-dent already, from your dentist or from friends. You may have read about Amm-i-dent. This you do know—that here at last is a tooth powder which promises new hope against tooth decay—not as a result of brushing your teeth many times a day, but because of the special ingredients in the Amm-i-dent formula.

First Ammoniated Tooth Powder

Two revolutionary ingredients are the active factors in Amm-i-dent—Dibasic Ammonium Phosphate and Carbamide. Not only was Amm-i-dent the first ammoniated tooth powder—but Amm-i-dent contains 3 times more active (ammonia-releasing) ingredients than other leading brands. You would need to brush your teeth 6 times a day with other brands to get the same effect as you get from twice a day brushing with Amm-i-dent.

Mrs. Kovel says, "My mouth really feels clean after Amm-i-dent and I've never seen my smile look brighter. It's the same with the children. How they love the taste." Your family, too, will love the clean minty taste and the bright smiles and sweet breath that Amm-i-dent can bring them.

Mothers! Insist that your family start using Amm-i-dent immediately. It costs so little—it can do so much.

NAME THE
GREAT PERSON CONTEST
IT'S INTERESTING! IT'S EDUCATIONAL
A New Contest Every Week — 10 Weekly Prizes — $10 Each

RULES

1. Throughout each weekly contest, every day, (Mon.-Sat.), SOMEWHERE in the classified section of the Bulletin, a small [illegible] line clue will be given.
2. In order to give all contestants (city and country) an equal opportunity to win one or more of these weekly contests, all contestants must have their answers delivered to the Bulletin or postmarked not later than midnight each Tuesday for the previous week's contest.
3. All answers received to this Contest by the Bulletin will be judged by the Contest Editor, and the first correct solution opened by the Contest Editor will be declared the winner, and announced the following Wednesday. See Rule No. 7.
4. No employe of the Bulletin or members of their families may enter this contest.
5. In the event of no correct answer being submitted in any particular week throughout the duration of the Contest, that week's prize money will be added to next week's prize.
6. If the contestants, when submitting answers, authorize the insertion of a 4-day want ad to appear in the classifed columns of the Bulletin, and they are adjudged the winner, the prize money will be doubled.

—ONE WINNER ONLY EACH WEEK—

7. The winner of the previous week's contest will be announced in the personal column, also on the first page of the second section, and over CFRN's Evening News broadcast every Wednesday night.

HOW TO PLAY—
"Name the Great Person"
CONTEST

Every day of the week, turn to the Classified pages of the Bulletin, and find that 4 or 5 line clue—Clip it—Save it—wait for tomorrow's Bulletin for the second clue. When you are sure that you have the proper solution, whether it's Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday night, mail it IMMEDIATELY to the Want Ad Contest Editor at the Bulletin. If you are the first person to submit the correct answer, whether it is Tuesday morning or Saturday morning, you will be declared the winner, and your cheque will go forward within a day or so.

All decisions of the Contest Editor will be final. No correspondence will be entered into, or interviews granted, in connection with this Contest.

How to Save $20,000.00

Presuming that you are married and between the ages of twenty and thirty, we can assume that you will be looking for a place to live for approximately 45 years.

Therefore, at an average rental of $40.00 per month, you will have paid out $21,600.00 to keep a roof over your head, and still you will own NOTHING . . . not a stick!

Compare This With Home Ownership

Buy a small home, specially if your down payment has to be less than $1,500.00. In Jasper Place many young people have found the way to successful home ownership, giving themselves independence that no one can take away, with down payments of $800.00 to $1,000.00. Do just that and safeguard your family's future. BUY A HOME NOW!

5,000 Suffer In Dakota Floods —More To Come

JAMESTOWN, N.D., April 18 — (UP — Flooding rivers caused suffering for almost 5,000 persons in North Dakota and Minnesota today and the Red Cross declared the situation a "No. 1 disaster."

Red Cross officials estimated that 1,287 families were affected and weather observers said the worst was yet to come.

Rivers and streams, still gorged with the winter's ice and overburdened by rapid melting of a heavy snow pack, rampaged over lowlands in more than a score of communities.

Commonwealth Army Leaders In Conference

LONDON, April 18—(Reuters)—Commonwealth military officers, with United States observers, yesterday began a closed-door study here of methods to improve army conditions — whether fighting in Arctic snows, equatorial deserts or tropical jungles.

Efficiency, health and comfort of the modern soldier are the special concern of the conference among Britain, Canada, Australia, Ceylon, India, New Zealand, Pakistan and South Africa.

The delegates in the next three weeks will hear about 100 papers from experts on all scientific and military problems involved in equipping the modern soldier.

Search Hampered By Cannon Ball

TOBERMORY, Scotland, April 18—(CP)—A stone cannon ball resembling those fired from the guns of the Spanish Armada, today clogged temporarily the pumps being used in a search for a 16th-Century treasure-laden galleon on the ocean's floor near here. Old tales say the galleon, carrying some $68,700,000 worth of gold ducats, foundered in this area. The search for it is being carried out by the Royal Navy, in collaboration with the Duke of Argyll.

Miner Admits Ambush Murder Of Doctor

STAR CITY, W. Va., April 18—(UP)—A 47-year-old miner admitted the ambush slaying of a coal company doctor "because he wouldn't give me a clean bill of health so I could work."

State police said Vincenzo Stefanizzi waited for Dr. Paul L. Douglas, 40, at a ferry slip here yesterday and shot him three times with a 38-calibre revolver. Stefanizzi surrendered at the scene with the revolver still in his hand. He was charged with murder.

Douglas had examined Stefanizzi for employment at the Christopher Coal Co. and would not pass him because of poor hearing, police said. The miner was married and had two sons.

Trucker Admits Killing Woman

SAN JOSE, Calif., April 18.—(AP)—Sheriff Howard Hornbuckle said today an unemployed truck driver confessed that he bludgeoned flame-haired Helen May Piper to death and rolled her body down a slide. Hornbuckle said Harry A. Wilson, 28, ex-convict friend of the thrice-married waitress made this statement. Wilson beat the 25-year-old mother of three children with a hammer after an argument Thursday over use of his car. The two had been drinking.

Reds Need Aid To Feed Chinese

HONG KONG, April 18—(AP)—The Anglican bishop of Hong Kong disclosed yesterday that the Chinese Communists have invited representatives of some Christian organizations to a Peiping conference on famine relief.

Bishop R. Hall said word of the conference scheduled for April 20 came from the Shanghai branch of the national Christian council.

He described it as the first indication the Red regime was considering outside aid for the millions of Chinese reported starving.

Flood Threat Seen In B.C.

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 18.—(BUP)—Fraser Valley residents faced a warning today that the sudden arrival of warm weather might plunge the area into the worst flood conditions since mountain runoffs took a $5,000,000 toll in 1948.

While volunteers and provincial government workers filled 10,000 sandbags to plug a leaking dyke that already had flooded 1,000 acres of farmland, the valley dyking board announced:

"There is enough snow in the mountains to give us a bad flood. Whether it comes depends on the weather. If there is a sudden spurt of warm weather it will be bad."

Letter-Writing Deacon Makes Settlement

GUELPH, Ont., April 18—(BUP)—A Baptist minister who wrote love letters to a married woman in his congregation has reached a settlement out of court with church deacons who sought an injunction to keep him from preaching.

The deacons withdrew their suit against the Rev. Thomas H. Guthrie from Ontario Supreme Court yesterday. Details of the settlement were not announced, but it was reported that Guthrie confessed writing to Mrs. Robert Stitt, 27, and asked the congregation for forgiveness.

Guthrie had not preached in the church since the deacons told him "to take a slow boat to China." Since he left York Road Baptist Church he had been holding services in a meeting hall for church members who remained loyal to him.

15 High Rank Russians Die In Past Six Months

By William Ryan

NEW YORK, April 18.—(AP)—Moscow has announced in the last half year the deaths of 15 Russian generals and admirals—some of them rather young.

The appearance of such obituaries so frequently in the Soviet press naturally arouses speculation in the west over the possibility of a new purge in the Soviet Union. However, there has been no hint in the advices which pass through Moscow censorship that a purge actually is under way.

The Russians also have reported the deaths of a considerable number of civilian, as well as military officials. The latest obituary of this type published by the Soviet press was that of N. V. Egorov, 48-year-old official of the council of ministers, whose death was announced today.

Other high-ranking Soviet functionaries who have passed away recently include Peter Anurov, a counsellor first class in the Soviet foreign ministry, and Anatoli Kopytov, 43, minister of cinematography.

PORTY OFFICIAL

Alexander Petukhov, deputy chief of the Communist Party central committee organization bureau, died April 13. Scientist Nikolai Luzin died suddenly March 3. He was once under fire on a charge of being servile to the ideas of western scientists.

Russia's last big purge was in the mid-1930s, when a large number of generals and admirals were whisked off to firing squads. The supporters of Prime Minister Stalin managed by this to forestall an attempt to seize the power from him.

Why might there be a purge today? Stalin is aging—possibly even ill. In the not distant future the mantle of power must be passed on.

Aggressive, ruthless Georgi Malenkov, boss of the Communist party's apparatus, is a likely bet. And being a seasoned opportunist, Malenkov might not hesitate to put out of the way anyone who might thwart him.

Would Ban Jets

WINNIPEG, April 18—(CP)—Mayor R. Wightman of St. James said today he will seek action banning jet planes from using Stevenson Field here following the Sunday accident in which a citizen was killed by a falling jet fighter.

Faith In UN Is Reaffirmed

OTTAWA, April 18. — (CP) — Canada reaffirmed faith in the future of the United Nations.

Despite shades of differences among UN, the sharp splits between the Communist and non-Communist blocs, heightened by Russia's abuse of the veto, the government said it was not going to abandon readily the hope that the principles on which UN was founded may one day be applied "on a universal basis."

Its views on UN activities were contained in a 300-page report to Parliament, tabled Monday in the Commons and covering every detail of Canada's 1949 activities before the international political organization.

Prepared by Canada's diplomatic experts, the report emphasized the great limitations within the UN brought on by Russian behavior, but said Canadian delegates will continue to make the "fullest contribution within their power" to the effective working of UN "in the present difficult circumstances."

Leg Not Lost By Airman In Winnipeg Crash

WINNIPEG, April 18 — (CP) — RCAF officials yesterday said that flying officer Vic Barber, whose jet fighter crashed Sunday in the residential area of West Winnipeg, had not lost his right leg as earlier reported by the Canadian Press. His condition, however, still remains "serious."

Lorimer Fairhall, 41, was killed as the plane knifed through his small garage in suburban St. James as he was tuning up his car. Another man was slightly injured when the plane finally crashed to a halt against the rear of his home.

RCAF said FO. Barber's leg, badly shattered, had been saved by doctors.

TREES FLOURISH AGAIN IN COLD, COLD ALASKA

PETERSBURG, Alaska, April 18.—(AP)—Redwoods are living in Alaska for probably the first time in 35,000,000 years.

Petersburg officials of the United States forest service, who planted seedlings of the Dawn Redwood here last July, said so today.

In prehistoric days the Dawn Redwood and other trees thrived in the then-temperate forests of Alaska and other northern countries.

Climatic changes, scientists say, eventually killed off the giant trees. In recent years and expedition found the trees growing in the interior of Canada.

U.S. Senators Interested In Church Charge

NEW YORK, April 18 — (UP) — U.S. senators have declared themselves "interested" in Presbyterian church charges of religious persecution in Colombia, a church official said today.

The official, Daniel M. Pattison, treasurer-elect of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S., said senators who replied to his April 10 letter were "generally interested" and that some said they had asked the state department for background.

Pattison's letter cited 12 instances of religious persecution. It was sent to senators and to several state department officials.

British Expect Berlin Trouble

BERLIN, April 18.—(Reuters)—British reinforcements stood by yesterday ready to fly into Berlin, while the Western powers appealed to mothers in the city's Soviet sector to keep their children out of trouble during Communist May Day and Whitsun demonstrations.

Maj.-Gen. G. K. Bourne, British commandant, said a battalion now in the British zone of Germany is ready to take off for Berlin at short notice to cope with any "unanticipated emergency" during the Whitsun "free youth" peace rally May 28.

OIL

Venezuela Secure In Oil Production

By C. V. Myers
Bulletin Oil Editor

Venezuela does not fear Alberta oil competition for at least 10 years, a Venezuelan government official told a meeting in Caracas.

Western Canada's production will be absorbed locally and in that area of the United States near the Great Lakes, according to the Venezuelan view.

The official, Dr. M. R. Egana, said that eastern Canada will continue to draw its oil from the U.S., Gulf of Mexico, Venezuela and the Middle East.

However, it has been known here for a year that Imperial will feed its Sarnia refinery from Alberta, and it appears that Alberta oil may go further than that, providing the competition is not too stiff.

Alberta may be up against a cheapened Venezuelan crude, however, in two or three years, for Dr. Egana intimated that Venezuelan crude may not be able to compete with Maddle East oil in Europe after the trans-Arabian pipeline is completed.

PRODUCTION CUT

Already Venezuelan production has been cut 35,000 barrels daily as a result of British restrictions on imports of dollar oil. The restrictions are aimed at replacing 30,000,000 barrels a year with crude from the Middle East.

Thus growing production in the Middle East is at the bottom of a shaky oil price structure. Cheaper crude from there may mean cheaper Venezuelan oil, cheaper Venezuelan oil may mean cheaper oil in the U.S. and if depressed Venezuelan product comes knocking at the doors of eastern Canada and the U.S. Great Lakes district, it may mean cheaper oil in Alberta.

One proposal in the States is to slap a $1.05 a barrel tax on all imported crude, but the State Department has declared itself against any import restrictions.

Meanwhile Alberta already had a potential of more than two thirds Canada's requirements and it may be that Dr. Egana will have to revise his thinking with regard to Western Canada's oil production over the next decade.

The second well has struck the D-2 zone 25 feet higher than the No. 1 well, at an elevation of 2,449 feet below sea level. A better well than the first is anticipated. The No. 1, completed last fall, rated 1,000 barrels a day open flow potential.

The Canadian Family owes much to . . . Norway

A Tribute from Calvert to Canadians of Norwegian Descent

Canadian life owes much of its strength and vitality as well as its variety, interest and colour to the blending of racial and cultural heritages from many lands.

It is a matter of pride to all Canadians that so many races, without sacrificing their national characteristics, have united themselves into one great citizenship — the Canadian Family.

When Lief Ericson touched on Canada's shores in 1000 A.D. he was the first Norwegian to set foot in the New World. The years which followed have seen a steady stream of our hardy Northern cousins add their strength and culture to Canada's growth.

Norwegians, too, brought with them one of Canada's favourite sports — skiing. Their industry and thrift, their love of literature, their stamina and daring are qualities which have contributed much to Canada's progress.

Calvert, founder of Canada's first colony at Newfoundland in 1622, was head of the famous Calvert family. Calvert's ideals of democracy, ideals which were perpetuated by his descendants, helped set the pattern for the freedom we now enjoy.

Young Tories Defeat Sweepstake Proposal

OTTAWA, April 18.—(CP)—The controversial question of a government-operated sweepstake sparked a hot debate at the Young Progressive Conservative Association annual meeting yesterday.

About a dozen of the 100-odd delegates gave their views before a resolution which would have put the organization on record as favoring establishment of a "Canadian National Sweepstake, administered by the dominion government." It was finally rejected by an approximate two-thirds majority.

The debate erupted after delegates earlier had elected Leon Balcer (PC—Trois Rivieres) as their new president, succeeding E. D. Fulton, Progressive Conservative member of parliament for Kamloops. At a separate meeting Miss Sybil Bennett of Georgetown, Ont., was chosen president of the Women's P.C. Association.

Further discussion of resolutions brought in by a committee headed by F. H. B. Dewdney of Trail, B.C., was delayed an hour as delegates took time out to elect their new executive and to hear an address by Progressive Conservative leader George Drew.

DEPLORE POLICIES

Mr. Drew said there was no short cut to power. The main thing "is to find the things that should be done and then clearly convey to others things we think may advance the life of our country."

Turning to the question of freedom, he noted the government's "suppression of the report on the milling combine," and described it as a "symptom of a condition."

A resolution "deploring" the government's policy in "violating the basic tenets of free enterprise" met with YPC approval.

Specifically the resolution noted the government's policy in allowing TCA "to monopolize the Canadian trans-continental air route" and the CBC "to monopolize national radio networks" and "to control its competitors in the radio field."

Oklahoman's Girl Guarded

MUNICH, Germany, April 18—(UP)—Police proclaimed Oklahoma badman Homer Cook to be Germany's "public enemy No. 1" today and threw a special guard about the home of his beauteous German girl friend to protect her from possible attack.

Cook, 27, of Muskogee, Okla., slugged and knifed a German passerby in a fruitless effort to obtain a pair of shoes during his first 12 hours of freedom after his second jailbreak yesterday.

Then he escaped an encircling police trap by fleeing through miles of slimy underground passages of the Indiana Quartermaster Depot, which once held mountains of Hitler's war supplies.

American army agents said Cook was barefoot, coatless, hungry and broke and must soon show himself. They said they were prepared to take him "toes up" when he did.

Army agents and German police withheld the name of Cook's German girl friend in nearby Rosenheim, but said they were protecting her for fear the Oklahoma badman might turn on her.

It was understood Cook had indicated during his brief imprisonment in Dachau military prison that he blamed the girl for his recapture last Thursday night in the attic of her home.

Lost Child's Mom In B.C.

CANTERBURY, England, April 18—(CP)—Police investigating the disappearance of three-year-old Pamela Poirier case said today the child's mother was living in Vancouver when last heard from.

Pamela vanished from her bed in the home of her foster parents three days ago.

Squads of police and 100 soldiers are combing the woods and fields within five miles of Pamela's home. Chief Inspector P. W. Cory of the East Kent police said: "This is the stickiest case I have ever come up against."

The inspector said Pamela's mother went to Canada soon after the child was born and was reported living in Vancouver 12 months ago. She originally came from Gravesend, Kent. Pamela's father is believed to be in Britain.

The Kent County Council said it has received no reply to a registered letter it sent some time ago to Pamela's mother regarding the proposed adoption of Pamela and her five-year-old sister, Jean, by their foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Gordon.

Police throughout Britain are on the lookout for Pamela. The child was put to bed Saturday night in a room by herself. In the morning she had vanished. Her clothes were still there except for her woollen undershirt and nightdress.

"I understand Pamela is a very friendly little soul and would readily go with any stranger," Cory said.

Tells U.S. Aims

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., April 18.—(CP)—State Secretary Acheson said last night that the United States spurns a form of society in which the power of the state is based on "human misery and helplessness." The country, he said, draws its strength from its recognition of human dignity and of individual responsibility to the community.

The University of Dublin was founded in 1591.

Flag Group Gets Swift Appointment

OTTAWA, April 18—(CP)—The commons last night gave swift approval to a private motion asking for consideration of appointment of a special committee to report on the choice of a distinctive national flag for Canada.

The motion, introduced by Jean Richard (L., Ottawa East), was adopted without a dissenting voice.

The chamber, studying private members' resolutions, then quickly endorsed a motion by Bona Arsenault (L., Bonaventure) seeking establishment of a distinctive Canadian system of medals and decorations.

His motion asked that consideration be given to the advisability of setting up a special house committee to consider and report on such a system.

It suggested the medals and decorations be given to Canadiaans "for service beyond the call of duty and for other meritorious services, in time of war as well as in time of peace, and also for services rendered to Canada by men or women of nationalities other than Canadian, as a means of promoting goodwill and understanding between Canada and other countries of the world."

Senate May Make Move On Loyalty

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(UP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee may decide today whether it should force a showdown on President Truman's refusal to open federal loyalty files.

Committee chairman Tom Connally, D., Tex., said the controversy may be discussed at a closed meeting today. It arises from an investigation of charges by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R., Wis., that Communists have infiltrated the state department.

McCarthy hinted that a major break is imminent in his campaign to back his charges. He said he has contacted witnesses in New York and will have a "very, very interesting announcement today."

MPs Commie Dislike Winds Up In Fisticuffs

OTTAWA, April 18.—(CP)—Clarie Gillis, CCF member of parliament for Cape Breton South, doesn't like Communists.

He gave physical shape to his dislike when he smashed into a Communist sympathizer with both fists here Saturday night in the back alley of a downtown hotel.

The way Mr. Gillis recalls the chain of events that led to the tussle was when he went into the hotel tavern for a bottle of beer.

At the table next to him sat a young man about 28 years old who hailed an elderly patron to come and have a drink.

'OLD COMMIE LINE'

When the older man joined his host, Mr. Gillis could hear him selling the "old Commie line" to his guest and the older man immediately objected.

The Communist, angered, grabbed his guest by the shirt and called to waiters to throw him out because he was interfering with the Communist's freedom.

"I quietly got up," said Mr. Gillis, who is 55, "and told the waiters they were throwing out the wrong man. The elderly gentleman had done nothing wrong but refuse to swallow the Communist propaganda."

FIST ON NOSE

The Communist then began picking on Mr. Gillis and Mr. Gillis' fist shot out and connected on the nose.

"Thereafter, I told the Communist that if he wanted a battle he had better come outside."

In the alley, Mr. Gillis quietly took off his wristwatch which he did not want damaged and "tossed in a couple of rights to the Communist's jaw."

"The Communist sat down rather suddenly," said Mr. Gillis. "I guess he didn't know that I have been digging coal for 20 years and was welterweight champion of the Canadian Corps during the First World War."

Freight Rate Hike Decision Reserved

Seven Provinces Oppose Application Of Railways

OTTAWA, April 18.—(BUP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners yesterday reserved judgment on an application by Canadian railways for a further increase in freight rates.

The Railway Association of Canada, acting on behalf of the railways, asked the board to increase the 16 per cent freight rate boost authorized March 1 to the full 20 per cent requested July 27, 1948.

The hike, if granted, would amount to a 3.4 per cent jump over rates now in effect.

Judgment was reserved after the board had listened to about four hours of argument by counsel for the association and the opposing provinces. The hearing had been expected to last two days.

Assistant commissioner Hugh Wardrope said the board would take the argument of both sides under consideration and render a judgment later.

SEVEN PROTEST

The Association's case, opposed by all provinces except Ontario and Quebec, was argued mainly by C. F. H. Carson, counsel for the CPR, the "yardstick company" in all freight rate cases. Carson said the commissioners had erred on points of law in arriving at the 16 per cent award.

The board in its March 1 judgment decided that $29,791,700 was a fair deficiency for the CPR for 1949, Carson said. However, he contended that the board had departed from this amount in setting the rate hike of 16 per cent.

This deficiency figure, Carson said, had been scaled down to $22,300,000 which would have been met by the 16 per cent hike. However, he said only a 20 per cent boost would come near to meeting the deficiency of $29,791,700 which the board had decided actually existed.

ALTERATION UNFAIR

The case of the provinces was argued by Wilson McLean, Manitoba; F. D. Smith, counsel for the Maritime provinces; M. A. McPherson, counsel for Saskatchewan; J. J. Frawley, counsel for Alberta; and C. W. Brazier, counsel for B.C.

They argued that the board did not have the right to grant an increase to make up a deficit on paper. They said the award of 16 per cent should only have been granted if rates were unjust and unreasonable. They assumed that this was the basis of the March 1 judgment and that it therefore could not be altered. It was not proper, they said, for the board to grant an increase just because the railways could show a deficit on paper.

Economic 'Quake Seen In Ontario

TORONTO, April 18.—(CP)—E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario CCF leader, said yesterday Ontario is in danger of an "economic earthquake." Mr. Jolliffe, opposition leader in the Ontario legislature, said there have already been "warning tremors." Unemployment was at the highest point since 1939, he said in an address prepared for delivery tonight over an Ontario network of the CBC. Overseas farm markets were "melting away like the snows in the spring."

Minister Challenges CCF About Social Security

OTTAWA, April 18.—(CP)—Health Minister Martin heatedly challenged the CCF party in the Commons last night to deny that Canada has a social security program comparable to that of any other country in the world.

Unable to get the floor, Angus MacInnis (CCF, Vancouver East) leaped to his feet several times and said he would deny the statement if only the minister would give him time.

Mr. Martin retorted that every piece of social legislation on Canada's statute books had been placed there by Liberal administrations, a fact which "irritated" Mr. MacInnis "most of all."

NO TELLING

The CCF party, said Mr. Martin, did not "like to be told" that anyone other than the CCF could bring in social security legislation.

Mr. Martin spoke after Mr. MacInnis, as the chamber considered private members' legislation, moved a resolution calling for an expanded social security program.

His resolution asked the government to consider the advisability of seeking provincial co-operation in formulating a program which "will be national in scope, adequate in its provisions, and that will cover all the people of Canada in every circumstance where the individual or family is, for reasons beyond their control, deprived of earning a living."

STIGMA OF CHARITY

All he wanted, he said, was that persons who were disabled or otherwise unable to work be given assistance without the "stigma of charity" being attached to it. It was time for the dominion to take the question up with the provinces.

Mr. Martin said he had no objection to the motion except that it did not make clear that the dominion was continually seeking provincial co-operation in the social field. There had been many meetings in the past and more in the future.

Mr. Martin adjourned the debate.
